

GC teachers intend to strike next week

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Notice of intent to strike next Monday was given yesterday by Granite City Local 743 of the American Federation of Teachers. Five-day notice is required under the new state bargaining law.

Another pre-strike requirement, one of mediation, is occurring today—a 10 a.m. session with Charles Riley, a federal mediator; the latest non-mediated talks took place Aug.

15. Neither side has called for mutually agreed binding arbitration, which would bar a strike.

LOCAL 743 leaders are at the national AFT convention this week in Washington, D.C. Teachers are known to hope for a pay raise in 1984-85 after the district's 1983-84 salary freeze.

Local 743 is slated to meet Saturday.

The school calendar calls for term-opening faculty meetings at 8:15 a.m. Aug. 27, with students reporting Aug. 28 for a half-day and Aug. 29 for the first full day of classes.

In the event of a strike, a formal delay in the calendar is likely to be ordered. Schools no longer have to schedule classes to prove there is a work stoppage.

ADMINISTRATORS say they, not only lack money to raise school employees' pay but also are $312,335 short of balancing revenue and costs in their amended 1984-85 budget, which was given tentative board approval Tuesday night.

The shortfall is in addition to accumulated multi-million-dollar operating debt.

Some past raises have been funded by increasing borrowing, but it is being contended now that the district has exhausted its borrowing power and could be forced to "lock its doors" before the school year has been completed.

A STOPGAP LOAN—$5 million in July 1984-January 1986 tax anticipation notes—needs to be followed by $6.6 million in working cash fund (WCF) bonds this year, financial advisers have said.

With enough "backdoor referendum" petition signatures filed to put the latter issue on the ballot, the board may schedule a Nov. 6 election.

That action could be taken during an Aug. 28 special meeting, which is to be attended by the anticipation note buyer.

BOARD MEMBER Dewey Melton suggested that up to $8 million be submitted to voters if cash flow projections that are now being completed show a $6.6 million figure (maximum WCF borrowing power) is insufficient.

Melton and School Treasurer Kelly Hogan commented that the National and Kokan steel firms joined

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The 106-year history of Granite City Steel as an American steel mill came to a close at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday as executives of National Intergroup, Inc. (NII) and Nippon Kokan K.K. signed the final agreement making Granite City Steel and other NII facilities part of an international joint venture.

The final agreement was signed by Howard M. Love, NII's chairman and chief executive officer, and Minoru Kano, Nippon's president, ending four months of negotiations.

THE PARENT company of Granite City Steel will continue to be known as National Steel Corporation and will be directed by a six-member board, half American and half Japanese. Love will serve as chairman of the board with a Japanese vice chairman, Haruki Kamiya. Other board members will be James E. Haas, who currently serves as NII president, and Richard S. Smith, and Japanese members Yukio Tani and Sosuke Doi.

Robert D. McBride, a former Granite Cityman, will serve as president of National Steel Corp., while Japanese executive vice presidents, Tani and Doi, will be in charge of the company's management.

The operating management of National Steel was not changed and "The company will be guided by strategies and plans approved by both NII and Kokan. It will be operated by its present 12,500 employees and certain full-time Kokan employees, principally technical specialists and a few staff persons who will work side-by-side with National's current employees," according to a news release announcing change.

IT ALSO said, "Kokan also will provide project teams, as needed, to work on special technology and other assignments."

In signing the final agreement, Nippon has agreed to buy half of National Steel Corp. for $273 million in cash and $19 million in notes. The purchase includes National's three steel plants in Granite City, Detroit, Mich., and Portage, Ind.; the iron ore operations in Minnesota and coal mines and properties in Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Kokan will assume its share of the existing debt and liabilities relating EXTRICATING CYCLIST. Emergency medical technicians of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department immobilize the broken right leg of 13-year-old Norman Fulkerson, with a cervical collar around his neck, before removing him from his mangled bicycle Tuesday afternoon. The boy was unable to stop the three-wheeled cycle and ran under the rear tires of a flatbed trailer of a truck northbound on the Cloverleaf Addition access road. Fulkerson was taken, and later admitted, to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Lawsuit from lead in yards may affect many homeowners

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

A class-action suit alleging "flagrant disregard to control pollution emissions and with reckless, wanton and outrageous indifference to the destructive consequences thereof," has been filed in federal court against a Granite City lead smelter firm by the city of Granite City and several other parties on behalf of more than 30,000 Quad-City area residents.

The lawsuit, filed Monday afternoon by Attorneys William E. Brandt and Lance Callis, charges that pollution, particularly lead, has been discharged by Taracorp, Inc., at 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, and N.L. Industries, Inc. (National Lead), which operated the lead smelter before Taracorp.

DEPENDANTS, besides the city, are First Granite City National Bank, Amco Investment Co., Tri-

City Truck Plaza, B.V. & G. Transport Co., Trust 454 and residents Wes Williams, John Crow, George Gary and Diana Geroff, Janice Pyatt, Robert and Marilyn Harris, Eugene and Jeannette Mullen, Harrison Padgett, Madison and Medora Garrett and James and Patricia Riskovsky, "individually and as representatives of others similarly situated," according to the lawsuit.

All those named own property within a two-mile radius of the secondary lead smelter of Taracorp, the suit states. "At all times...the smelter's refining operations have been carried on in close proximity to the real property and residences of the plaintiffs," it alleges.

Brandt said the lead contamination may affect approximately two-thirds of the residents of Granite City and half the residents of Madison and Venice. All those who may be affected will be contacted "at some point down the road" by Brandt's office and asked to join in the lawsuit. "They would be foolish not to do so," of course," Brandt said, explaining that those who join in the suit will not be charged attorney's fees.

HE SAID persons harmed by lead in their yards may be reimbursed for "removal of the soil or treatment or whatever they have to do. A second class-action suit is being considered for compensation for health risks from the lead, he said.

Brandt said he is "absolutely optimistic" the suit will be successful and commented, "The liability is absolute. It is a matter of ascertaining the damages and, in the long term, how badly our children may be affected by this."

"In the process of operating the lead smelter in the neighborhood of

Large Labor Day Parade predicted

The Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council will again sponsor the annual Labor Day Parade on Monday, Sept. 3. The co-chairmen for this year's event will be Ed Reiske, Trades and Labor Council president, and David J. Kins, United Steelworkers of America Local 4804 president.

Reiske and Kins are both optimistic that this year's parade will be even more successful than last year's.

THEY ALSO announced that the parade route will be changed this year. The parade will start in downtown Granite City, in the 1900 block of Edison Avenue, to enable various participating groups to utilize the banks' parking lots for assembly. The parade then will proceed to Niedringhaus Avenue, then east on Madison Avenue to 28th Street, where it will turn north and proceed to Wilson Park for disassembly.

Statewide ruling after registration clash here

An court order that driver's license examining stations statewide cannot refuse to allow voter registration in the stations was issued by Associate Judge Wendell Derr in Edwardsville Tuesday. The lawsuit also resulted in unemployment compensation offices and Illinois Public Aid offices agreeing to accept deputy registrars.

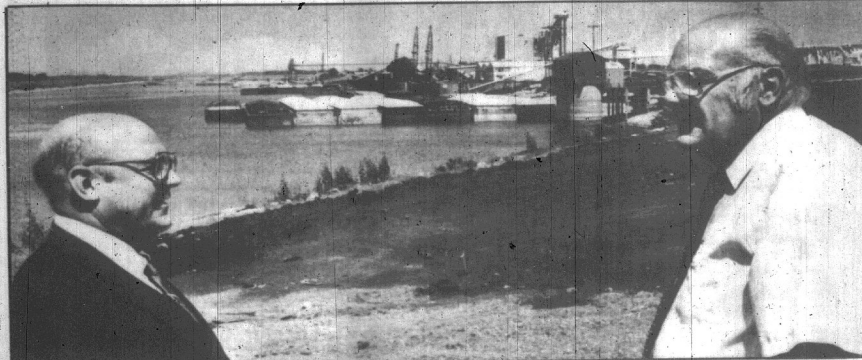

A lawsuit was filed against the Illinois Department of Public Aid, Illinois Bureau of Employment Security, Secretary of State Jim Edgar, Fred Painter, manager of the Granite City Driver's License Examining Station, and others attempting to force the opening of public buildings for voter registration.

PRIOR to Tuesday's hearing, both the Public Aid offices and the unemployment offices agreed to open their offices during business hours for voter registration.

Edgar, however, refused and was represented by attorneys from Springfield at Tuesday's hearing. The

Songs, water pump, hot stove at old Mitchell school building recalled

By MARGUERITE LEXOW

(This article is one of a series of Old Six Mile Historical Society reports on early Quad-City schools.)

The first Mitchell School was built in 1871. My father, August Thies, attended this one-classroom, frame school.

He spoke of Jesse Campbell, who taught all eight grades. His students included boys as tall as he was.

Campbell used a stick often in keeping discipline. He boarded at the Charles Lexow home.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS in 1927 were Joseph Rapp, M.S. Link and Frank Troeckler. The Mitchell school treasurer was Charles Lexow.

In 1913, Bernadine Troeckler taught at the Mitchell School. Her salary was $60 a month.

Families attending this school were Seagar, Kellerman, Thies, Troeckler, Link, Dobbins, Mueller, Lexow, Rapp, Hess, Smith and Hackett.

Later, the enrollment was such that a curtain was put across the room to make two separate class areas.

EVENTUALLY, a two-room, frame structure was built.

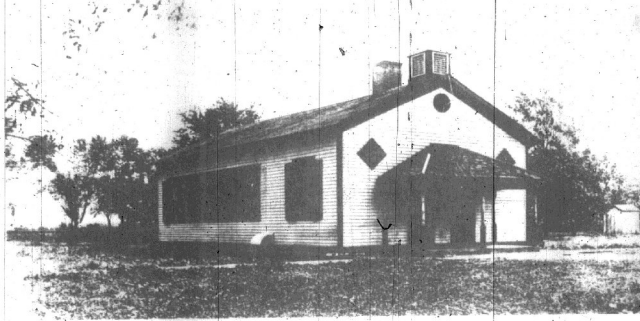

When I attended the school in the 1920s, there were two teachers, Miss Fensterman, who drove from Edwardsville, and Miss O'Donnell, who boarded locally at the John Voight home.

At the opening exercises of the school day, at 9 a.m., the folding doors between the two rooms were opened. All of the children stood and said the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

MISS FENSTERMAN would play the piano and we would sing several songs from the songbooks. Then the folding doors would be closed and we would proceed with our lessons. It was pleasant way to begin the day.

The classrooms were heated by large stoves. It was too warm at the rear of the room by the stove, and too cold at the front of the room.

There was a hand pump in the yard, and we each had our own aluminum folding cup. The cups were kept in our school desks.

OLD MITCHELL SCHOOL on East Chain of Rocks Road. It was replaced in 1937 by the present Mitchell elementary school.

Since the Mitchell school yard in Chouteau Township was adjacent to a cemetery, some children were afraid to drink the water. Older boys teased that bones might come out of the pump.

IN THE WINTER, we either carried our drinking water or drank stale water from large containers in the cloakroom.

Restrooms were outside, quite a long distance to walk or run, especially in rain and snow. They were unheated but were equipped with Sears & Roebuck catalogues. There was no soap and no water. Knots in the boards, as well as a triangle cut high on the door, provided light and ventilation.

An upraised finger indicated the teacher's need for a drink. Two upraised fingers told of the need to go outdoors. Sometimes she would shake her head, meaning "No."

EVERY HALLOWEEN, the boys' toilet would be overturned and there would be no classes the next day. My father and the other directors would have to get it back in place. No one was ever caught and punished for this prank.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapp, who lived across from the school, had chickens which occasionally laid eggs in the weeds of the school yard. Sometimes a boy would find a rotten egg and start an egg fight. The boy he hit would be sent home to get cleaned up, and the egg thrower would be whipped.

Discipline was hard to keep in those days, when some boys were taller and stronger than the teachers.

I REMEMBER when Miss Fensterman would use switches from trees in the yard. She was aided by Miss O'Donnell, who would hold the boy as best she could.

Miss Fensterman would hit at the struggling boy, with broken pieces of the switch flying all over the room. I was always afraid the pieces would hit me.

The two-room school became so crowded that in 1917 it was necessary to remove the old building and replace it with a new four-room, brick building. The address of the campus is 216 E. Chain of Rocks Road. Board members were John Estes, August Thies, and Dan Boyle.

Prior to that time, final examinations for eighth grade students were taken in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville. The teacher and pupils spent many hours after school preparing for these tests.

GRADUATION EXERCISES for eighth graders were held on the stage of the Wilkey Theater in Edwardsville.

At the end of the school year, a picnic was held on the Long Lake picnic grounds at Mitchell. What made it so special was the treat of ice cream.

We would line up for turns while a member of the school board would dip into the large containers of ice cream and fill cones. We could have as many as we could hold. There was a choice of strawberry, chocolate and vanilla.

There was an "active Parent-Teacher Association in 1922. It sponsored a Washington memorial tree dedication and Arbor Day program. Mrs. Charles Hildinger was president.

WHEN I GRADUATED from Illinois University in 1936, I looked forward to teaching at the Mitchell School.

Charles and I were married in June, as planned, and I found out to my surprise that no married women were permitted to teach.

However, in December, Dan Boyle, who was on the school board, asked me to substitute for a fourth grade teacher who would be out for a week. That is when I started substitute teaching at Mitchell.

I was so happy that I had the opportunity to teach I was paid $5 a day as a substitute.

With the school experiencing oversized classes and anticipating further enrollment increases, work was started in 1920 on an addition consisting of four classrooms, a gymnasium with a stage, restrooms and showers.

THE DEDICATION on Nov. 15, 1921, included an open house and a program in the gymnasium. Our daughters, Suzanne and Nancy, graduated from this school.

Martin Katzman of Mitchell became the first school secretary. In August 1924, Clyde Lee was the principal and he asked her to notify parents about kindergarten classes which were being started. The first kindergarten teacher was Geraldine Hill Fields of Madison.

In 1927, to again relieve overcrowding, a wing was added to provide six more classrooms. Drinking fountains were provided. There were now four kindergarten classes, two meeting in the morning and two in the afternoon.

IN A SURVEY taken in 1947-48 leading up to the decision in 1950 to consolidate school districts in Granite City and the surrounding area, there were 133 children at Mitchell School.

Past Mitchell principals were Della Ellis, A. Brazier, Myrtle Miller, Clyde Lee and Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, now Madison County regional superintendent of schools.

The present principal is Arthur E. Menendez.

SIGNS BATTERY COMPLAINT

Valencia Matthews, 17 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, who was injured last week, has signed a city complaint for battery. A man struck her with his fists in the face, on the right side of her body and on the back.

New Madison police officer wants to make city 'proud'

For new Madison police officer Steve Skoklo, a law enforcement career was not his childhood dream.

Skoklo's father, Ted, was a Madison policeman and Skoklo said this did not make for an easy childhood. "I had to be really good. If anyone caught me doing anything wrong, you can be sure my father talked about it," he said. "So I had to be careful not to pull any of the normal kid pranks, like shooting off fireworks in an alley, or my father would hear about it."

Skoklo said his feelings about the career changed when a friend of his, who was an MP (military policeman) in the service, told him about his experiences. "I started to like the idea of being able to help out the community, so we decided to take the police test," he said.

Skoklo said his friend has since died, but that has not stopped him from pursuing his career. He has taken the test twice, and was hired at a city council meeting in July.

"I'm very happy I got the job," Skoklo said. "And I want to make the city proud of me."

I grew up in Madison and I like living here, so I wanted to do something to help out the city. I think my service as a police officer will be a good contribution."

He has served as a volunteer fireman for the city and has been trained as an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT). He attended his EMT training as a service to the

STEVE SKOKLO

Madison Ambulance Service and Campbell Ambulance Service. He also has had some firearms training, being a former member of a local gun club.

Before taking the policeman's job, he was an employee of Larry Goad and Company, Ellisville, Mo., where he was employed as a tank-lining fabricator for 12 years. He is a member of the Steamfitters' Union, Local 420.

Skoklo's hobbies include hunting and fishing. He and his two children, Melanie Anne and Daniel, reside at 1740 Fourth St., Madison.

He will serve as a dispatcher with the police department until he takes his training at the police academy in October.

Historical society publishes, distributes European cookbook

The Old Six Mile Historical Society has published a new cookbook, which was compiled by members and friends of the society. The book is dedicated to the cooks of Old Six Mile and to their mothers and grandmothers who passed on their culinary skills.

Society members say the recipes in the book are a blend of foods from the Old and New Worlds. Many of the recipes were originally prepared in European kitchens and brought to America years ago.

Margaret Turk Norwood shares recipes from Yugoslavia, Tomea Kirchoff shares recipes from Macedonia, and Annie Schaefer contributed recipes from Germany.

Harriet Bunselmeyer contributed a German potato salad recipe that was passed on through five generations, while Dorothy and Waldo Frohardt have shared their secret of making pickle relish and strawberry shortcake.

Members suggest that after reading the Hanfelder family recipe for homemade catsup, cooks may want to invite friends over to cook catsup in an outside kettle.

The book not only contains many traditional family recipes representative of early Old Six Mile cookery, but the artwork by Marguerite Barker is reminiscent of the Old Six Mile area. The Six Mile house is on the cover of the book, and sketches of Stallings Road House, Kinderhook School and many others are included inside the cookbook.

The cookbook sells for $4. Members of the historical society will be selling the book at a book sale sponsored by the Friends of the Library at the Granite City Ice Rink from 7 to 9 p.m. Aug. 24, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Aug. 25. Interested persons also may call 931-2355 or 931-3023 to obtain the cookbook.

Reversal attempt in zoning case fails

A post-trial motion seeking a reversal in the Albert Kibort zoning case has been denied by a Third Judicial Circuit judge in East Alton.

A second motion to stay enforcement was upheld, however.

In their post-trial motion, the Kiborts were asking the court to reverse its decision and allow them to operate an auto body shop at 2791 Pontoon Road.

They currently operate the auto body shop in conjunction with a flower shop at the address. The automotive shop, however, does not have a license and is being operated while the case is under appeal.

The lawsuit resulted after the Kiborts were originally granted C-5 commercial zoning for the two businesses, but the Granite City Council later amended the zoning ordinance to place body shops in an M-1 manufacturing classification.

Merger

to the steel business and NII will assume responsibility for payment of liabilities of National Steel related to the recent sale of the former Weirton Steel division to its employees.

KOKAN WILL assume the remaining $30 million of inter-company note of NII payable to National Steel, after reduction of the note to give effect to NII's assumption of the Weirton liabilities, the news release notes.

Prior to the signing, Love and Kanoo termed the joint venture an "historic international event" and expressed optimism that it would lead to a stronger, more competitive National Steel.

Kanoo stated, "We firmly believe that through the combining of the very best management and technology, National Steel can only continue to improve, becoming not merely the best steel company in the United States, but also truly a world-class steelmaker."

LOVE ADDED, "With an equal investment in National Steel, Nippon Kokan has an equal interest in seeing National Steel advance, prosper and grow. Our mutual goal is to make National Steel a showplace for steelmaking in America, utilizing the latest technology to improve yield, quality, productivity and service to our customers."

Haas noted, "Already, we have begun to work together on specific projects. For example, the new electrolytic galvanizing line to be built at the Great Lakes Steel division (Detroit) will be constructed as a joint project, with Kokan providing more advanced technology for some key equipment and National Steel's staff doing the engineering. The result will be a much better National/Kokan facility. We expect to break ground and begin construction this fall."

Haas continued, "We also will establish a technical coordinating and planning department to mesh the finest Kokan technology into the process and product development efforts of National Steel."

The joint venture finalized yesterday formed a large international steel company. Nippon already was Japan's second largest steel producer and owns the world's largest steel plant, the Fukuyama Works. National Steel was the sixth largest steel producer in the United States with a capacity of nearly six million tons of steel per year.

Kokan's Fukuyama Works, itself, has a capacity of 16 million tons per year. Kokan's sales for the first year ended March 31, 1984, totaled $6.1 billion.

NII, a diversified company dealing in materials, distribution and financial business services, had total sales of nearly $3 billion in 1983. Operating income and equity income from its business groups during the first six months of 1984 were: steel, iron ore and coal, $44.7 million; aluminum, $24.4 million; financial services, $19.5 million; distribution, $5.7 million, and other diversified business, $4.8 million.

Representatives of the United Steelworkers of America union who represent many National Steel employees, were generally in favor of the joint venture in earlier interviews, viewing the merging of the two as healthy for the new company's growth and future.

There were no official announcements by the union in response to yesterday's signing.

could get up a registration center. He was referred to the secretary of state's office in Springfield for permission.

Subsequently, Dowling and others requested an immediate injunction from Madison County Circuit Court: "With so little time left before the Oct. 5, 1984, deadline for registration, conducted by deputy registrars, it is necessary to enter an order to protect the rights of plaintiffs and the public," the document stated.

They contended that "the legislature has entrusted the supervision of registrars to the county clerk and other election authorities, not the defendants. At best, defendants are entitled to prevent any undue disruption in their offices and voter registration during business hours is not an undue disruption."

IT ALSO states that by making registration more difficult "the effect (of prohibiting registration in the public buildings) will be to deny the franchise to persons who are entitled to register and vote."

It alleges that barring registrations from the public buildings overreaches the public officials' authority, denies the fundamental right to vote, freedom of speech, equal protection and due process under the state and federal constitutions.

Painter told the Press-Record Tuesday afternoon that on the advice of Phil Howe, attorney for the secretary of state's office, he would open the Granite City driver's license station immediately to "this group and qualified groups to enter and register voters."

He said some guidelines may have to be developed, since there are none for this type of use of the building.

Parade

The parade committee, at its last meeting, unanimously approved the selection of Jaclyn Greer as Labor Day Queen to lead the parade. Miss Greer is currently the Granite City Junior Miss and was named Miss Collinsville last weekend. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greer of Rural Route One. Her father is a member of Local Union 30 at Granite City Steel.

The approval of the parade's grand marshal has also been announced. This year Jim Freeman, director of Region 1 has been selected.

THE COMMITTEE also has approved the purchase of trophies to be awarded to the float with the best theme, the best marching unit and for the best percentage of participation by a labor organization. At the conclusion of the parade, a tug-of-war will take place between several labor locals, with trophies awarded for the best team.

Those already signed up for the parade include: the Granite City High School Band, Mayor Paul Schuler, Senator Sam Vadalabene, Representative Sam Wolf, the Granite City American Legion Color Guard, Granite City Firefighters, USWA Local 30, Chemical Workers, Local 50, Teachers Local 753, United Way and Community Services.

The parade committee of the Labor Council has designated this year's parade as "D" Day of Solidarity.

Accident kills son of Tri-City racer

Tragedy struck the family of Tri-City Speedway racer Michael S. Wallace, 25, of Arnold, Mo., as he backed his pickup truck and racing car trailer in the family's driveway Monday afternoon, and then found his son fatally injured in the driveway.

Exactly how the accident occurred is unclear. A family spokesman said there were no broken bones, so it is not believed the child was run over by the truck or trailer, as initial reports indicated. It is speculated he may have fallen onto the pavement and hit his head or that the family dog may have jumped on the boy to play, and boy fell over, striking his head, the spokesman said.

It also is possible that the boy was brushed by the truck or trailer, but was not run over, as the father initially believed, he added.

The father had asked Michael S. "Mike" Wallace Jr. to remain standing near two oil drums while he backed the truck up. He then found his son on the driveway badly injured and rushed him to the hospital. He was pronounced dead at 4:13 p.m. Monday at St. Anthony's Medical Center.

Wallace commonly had his son with him in the pits during and after races. The father has raced at Tri-City for about seven years, according to Joe Senter, who is in charge of public relations for the track. He also races at Belleville, St. Charles and Jefferson County.

Wallace races modified and late model race cars and is among the "top-notch racers with good equipment," Senter said. Wallace is the brother of Rusty Wallace, the area's top racers and the current point leader in the NASCAR professional racing circuit.

Another brother, Kenny, 20, also is a racer. The father of the three,

Compensation claim referred to attorney

Granite City aldermen referred a workmen's compensation application for a city fireman to City Attorney John Papa Tuesday night.

According to Safety Inspector Dick Portell, a fireman who hurt his back earlier this year while trying to lift a lawn mower, has applied for a workmen's compensation claim of $31,000.

Portell said this same employee came back to work after recovering from the injury and again hurt his back, this time by trying to push back a refrigerator.

Alderman Jake Varadian questioned the employee's ability to perform his job in his present condition. Further comment on the case was not allowed, on the suggestion of the city attorney.

Gunmen rob local motel office, tie up employee

An employee of a Granite City motel was forced to lie on the floor and was bound with an extension cord after the office was robbed, along with the clerk's personal property, early Tuesday morning.

Two black men walked into the Illini Motel, 1100 Niedringhaus Ave., at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday, and inquired about the cost of a room. Upon receiving a reply, one man pointed a large caliber automatic pistol at the clerk, demanding that he open the money drawer and then lie on the floor.

The second man proceeded to remove currency from the drawer while the robber holding the weapon frisked the clerk, removing his wallet containing $42 and personal papers.

The gunman, described as 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds, went into the manager's sleeping quarters and awakened the night manager. He, too, was forced to lie face down on the floor next to the clerk.

The second robber, who was reported to be about 6 feet tall and of medium build, then stole a video cassette recorder, valued at more than $500, from the manager's quarters before fleeing the motel office.

A few moments later, one of the employees freed himself and summoned police, reports said.

Bike riders, school openings hazardous

By FRED H. UHLIG
Acting Illinois
Public Health Director

There are two events on a collision course: the opening of school and bicycle-motor vehicle accidents.

State records kept of such accidents reveal that the majority of all bike-motor vehicle accidents occur between 3 p.m. and 7 p.m., the hours that millions of school children are on their way home from school or out on the streets riding their bikes.

We must, somehow, impress on our children that a roadway can be a fatal playground for a careless bicyclist.

Last year in Illinois, there were 30 such accidents during all hours, with 32 people killed. Ten of these bike-motor vehicle accidents were what is called "in the dark fatalities."

Since riding bicycles in late afternoon and after dusk is significantly more risky than in the daytime, we must ask, "How can we protect our children against these accidents?"

First, the one factor contributing to most fatal after-dark bicyclist accidents is that the bicycles and riders were not readily visible to motorists. Second, many of the fatalities were caused by severe head injuries because the cyclists failed to wear protective helmets.

We urge:

1. Be sure you have reflectors on the rear of your bike, on the pedals, and the side rim or wheels. State law requires that a white light, which can be seen 500 feet ahead, be installed on the front of all bicycles using Illinois streets and roads. A red reflector or light that can be seen from 100 to 600 feet should be installed on the rear.

Professional bicyclists frequently wear small battery-operated lamps strapped to their legs to increase their visibility during night hours.

2. The state health department also recommends that reflective clothing be worn to make yourself or your child more visible to drivers. Wear a reflective vest, reflective bands on arms and legs, and reflectorized tape on the back of your jacket or shirt and helmet.

3. Wear a helmet at all times — not only during nighttime hours. A good helmet will have a rigid but crushable interior material which may help absorb the force of an impact.

Wasps in area not aggressive

Many calls have been received at the University of Illinois Extension office over the past few weeks concerning an insect called a cicada killer, according to Ronald Cornwell, Madison County agricultural adviser.

The cicada killer is a large, wasp-type insect that burrows into the soil in lawns, gardens and flower beds. It is about 1½ inches long and has brown translucent wings and a yellow and black abdomen.

It looks like it would be a dangerous insect. However, these insects are not very aggressive and normally will not bother people unless provoked in some manner, Cornwell said. It is rare that anyone is stung by the insect.

The cicada killer received its name because it hunts the cicada and uses this insect in raising young.

The female wasp constructs a nest in the soil. The wasp piles a mound of dirt at the entrance of each hole it makes in the ground.

The male cicada killers guard the nest while females hunt for cicada. The female stings and paralyzes the cicada and brings it back to the nest.

The female lays an egg on the cicada. When the egg hatches, the wasp larva feeds on the cicada.

When the cicada killer returns to its nest, it flies into the hole instead of out. This makes it difficult sometimes to control the insect.

If the nests are in an area where control is necessary, Cornwell suggests that people treat the nest with a spray of one to two percent Carbaryl (Sevin) or 0.5 percent Diazinon in the evening when the wasps are less active.

Zionett Society installs officers

In conjunction with the Youth Week observance at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 3067 Benton St., newly elected officers of the Zionett Missionary Society were installed by the guest pastor, the Rev. Phillip Warren.

Serving as candlelighters were Mrs. Hilda Barnes and Mrs. Kay Porter, with Mrs. Avery Morris presiding at the piano.

Each officer was given a carnation signifying the color and duty of the specific office. Those installed included Mrs. Carolyn Taylor, president, Mrs. Donna Warren, vice-president, Marie Austin, secretary, Mrs. Nora Scott, treasurer, Helen Nance, program chairman, Hilda Barnes, hope chairman, Mrs. Kay Porter, publicity chairman.

Also present were Mrs. Beryl Roudy, Mrs. Jennie Purdie and Mrs. Madge Boone. Refreshments were served after the session.

GRANDFATHER SIGNS BATTERY COMPLAINT

The grandfather of an 8-year-old, Venice boy signed a battery complaint last week against another Venice youth who allegedly beat his grandson.

The grandson was riding his bicycle along the 1000 block of Calhoun Street when he was approached by a youth who allegedly would not let him pass. The youth then pushed the boy off his bicycle onto the ground and started beating him.

BATTERY IS ALLEGED

Robin L. Fleetwood, 21, of 1636 Olive St., was arrested there late last week for alleged battery, after her sister, Beth Shepard, 705 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported being struck on the face at her apartment. Miss Fleetwood was released upon posting a $32 cash bond.

Free shade trees given by foundation

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free shade trees to people who become Foundation members during August, 1984.

The free trees are part of the foundation's effort to promote fall tree planting throughout America.

A Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow, Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, Silver Maple, Tuliptree, European Mountainash and Red Maple tree will be given to members joining during August.

The six to 12-inch trees will be shipped this fall at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10. They will be sent postage paid with enclosed planting instructions.

These trees were selected because they provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes and fall colors, according to John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director. They are guaranteed to grow, or they will be replaced free of charge.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a nonprofit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting. The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during August.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution may be sent to Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by August 31.

PASSENGER INJURED IN TWO-CAR ACCIDENT

A two-car accident in Venice this month, resulted in injuries to a passenger of one of the vehicles. Mavis Brown, 50, of 501 Fillmore Ave., Venice was treated and released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mrs. Brown was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Reta A. Davis, 54, of 417 Lincoln Ave., Venice. The driver of the other car was Leroy T. Green, 45, of 218 Harrison St., Madison.

Green stated he was driving east-bound on Broadway, behind the Davis vehicle, when the two cars collided. Mrs. Davis said she was attempting to make a left turn onto McKinley Avenue.

Organist to autograph new 'Fabulous Fox' album

Organist Jack Jenkins will be presented by the Granite City Evening Etude Music Club an autograph signing party from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 25, at Jan's Hallmark shop, 16 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

The public is invited to attend and meet the local musician, who has recorded the new "Fabulous Fox" album of organ music with Gerry Marian.

Copies of the album will be available at the autograph session and personally signed by Jenkins.

Also present Saturday will be Paul Coates, chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Theatre Organ Society, Marlin H. Mackley of Mackley Organ Services, producer of the album, who also was responsible for restoring the Fox Theatre's Wurlitzer organ, and Etude Music Club members.

To recreate the sound of the massive St. Louis Fox "mighty" Wurlitzer pipe organ was a difficult undertaking, Jenkins explained.

Miles of cable was needed to place the microphones in specific spots throughout the theater, thereby capturing the "in house atmosphere," he said.

The task of bringing the theater building to a state of a "deathly hush" in order to record was greater than anticipated.

All electricity was shut down to eliminate generator "buzz," as well as halting air handlers, pumps and motors.

The quietness revealed for the first time since the massive instrument was totally restored, a sound not experienced before, it was noted.

The expertise of the restoration work by Mackley produced sounds that not even the first listeners to the organ on Jan. 29, 1929, experienced, Jenkins said.

Organ installers still were working on the instrument the night of the grand opening in 1929, as patrons walked through the front door. Much of the intended work on the instrument was never finished until late 1981 when Mackley began the restoration process, it was learned.

The addition of a new electrical supply and other work, including replacement of over 4,000 magnets, all contributed to the clarity of the Wurlitzer's new tones.

Jenkins and Gerry Marian, who are considered among the St. Louis area's finest artists, were selected to perform on the organ for the new album.

Marian served as Stan Kann's assistant at the Fox and Ruggeri's Restaurant, St. Louis, from 1969 to 1977 and has frequently been featured in St. Louis television and radio shows.

In the album, Marian captures the golden sounds of theater organ music with renditions of "Stanley," "Ghost of a Chance," "Taking a Chance on Love" and "Moonbeams."

Side II of the album features Jack Jenkins, who was chosen because of his ability in style and technique to use the Wurlitzer in concert style.

A graduate of Southern Illinois University, Jenkins played in California for the San Diego-based Organ Power Corp., and has accomplished extensive experience in the field of sacred music.

He draws from a wide and varied musical background as a teacher, choir director, vocalist and musician, performing also on piano, cello and flute.

Jenkins is active in the American Theatre Organ Society and the American Guild of Organists.

His contributions to the album include concert arrangements of the "St. Louis Blues" and "Suite for Swane," arranged by Jenkins in four variations of organ technique.

From a very classical church style beginning, the music played by the Granite City organ moves into a romantic turn of the century style and silent movie accompaniment, culminating with the classic of all theater organ music, "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue."

Mackley Organ Service, in cooperation with Mary Strauss and the Fox Associates, is making the album available exclusively at the Byzantine Bazaar, located next to the Fox Theatre, St. Louis. It was learned. However, copies will be available Saturday.

ARREST MADISON MEN IN KIRKPATRICK HOMES

Richard A. Kostoff, 22, of 734 Sixth St., Madison and Randy J. Brown, 25, of 1136 Greenwood St., Madison, were both charged with disorderly conduct this week when arrested in the 800 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Police responded to a disturbance call and allegedly found the pair seated in a car in a parking area playing loud music over an auto stereo. The men were warned 30 minutes earlier to leave the area, reports noted.

Kostoff and Brown posted $52 cash bonds and were released pending a court hearing.

SR. CENTER VANDALIZED

Larry Seldon, an employee of the city of Venice, told police officers at 4:15 p.m. Monday that he was walking home from work when he noticed some damage to the kitchen door lock of the Venice Senior Citizens' Center, Klein and Bissell streets.

Police investigating, observed rust on the lock, which apparently was a result of someone beating the door with a rusty instrument. The drain pipe next to the door also was damaged. No entry was gained to the center, however.

APRIL INCIDENT ENDS IN BATTERY WARRANT

Rebecca L. Oropeza, 18, of Rural Route Two, Box 794, was arrested last week when she came to Granite City police station in response to two warrants being issued, one alleging failure to pay a traffic charge.

The second warrant, issued on a complaint signed by the mother of a student, alleged battery and stemmed from an incident in a study hall at Granite City High School in April.

At that time, it was alleged, Miss Oropeza threatened and struck a 14-year-old fellow student's chin twice.

It was agreed to allow school authorities to handle the situation, the mother said. Later, it was learned the daughter had suffered a dislocated jaw, requiring several visits to a dentist and eventually to an oral surgeon, the mother stated.

She also alleged that Miss Oropeza continued to drive past the home of the victim, yelling obscenities and, on July 26, a formal complaint was signed.

Miss Oropeza appeared in the Granite City court and pleaded innocent to the charge of battery. She was given until November to pay the traffic fine and was released on her own recognizance.

Sex offenses by man alleged

Harold D. Sullivan, 51, of 1612 Primrose Ave., was arrested at home at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday on a warrant alleging contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor, relating to a July 1 incident involving an 11-year-old girl at his home. He was released upon posting a $252 cash bond.

Sullivan was booked on the same charge in a different case, concerning a 12-year-old girl, at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

The latter charge also involved an alleged incident at the man's home earlier this year and was specified in a warrant issued July 6 by Associate Judge Nicholas G. Byron upon a complaint signed by a detective sergeant.

Sullivan earlier appeared before a judge and was freed on a $5,000 bond at that time. However, he was never formally booked and processed at police headquarters. He was accompanied by an attorney to Monday's booking and remains free on bond.

The parents of the 12-year-old Granite City girl reported the incident to police when their daughter alleged Sullivan touched her after inviting the girl into his home on the pretense of using a calculator.

In the incident involving the 11-year-old child, the parents alleged Sullivan tried to fondle the girl and kissed her, with the offense also occurring at his house. Their daughter ran home following the episode, the parents said.

PARK DISTRICT SETS PICNIC

Final design for new park pool approved

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Blueprint drawings for a new swimming pool and bathhouse to be located adjacent to the Wilson Park Ice Rink were accepted by the Granite City Board of Park Commissioners Wednesday night. The blueprints were prepared by Hastings and Chivetta Architects and Planners, a St. Louis firm. Representatives of the firm included the changes which board members suggested at a previous meeting. The overall size of the pool will remain at 101 feet, however, the 16,000 square feet of deck area was reduced, but will still coincide with a state requirement.

IT WAS THOUGHT that using the existing site of the swimming pool and adding onto the bathhouse to confirm with state regulations, it might be less expensive, but one of the architects explained the cost would probably be about the same as a new pool and bathhouse since the construction of the bathhouse may not be up to date, according to local building codes and would involve an extensive renovation.

The building would have to be entirely gutted and additional space added, since the state inspectors said the park district must provide more showers and toilet facilities for pure use as a pool.

By locating the new pool near the ice rink, the bathhouse and locker rooms will be utilized during the winter season for ice hockey players.

OF GREAT interest to some area residents will be the new additions to the pool that will provide special steps into and out of the pool for the handicapped, and possibly a ramp for the disabled patrons. The bathhouse will be no problem, since the plans indicate shower stalls and other facilities specially designed for the handicapped.

Now that the commissioners have approved the blueprints, a final cost estimate will be prepared and presented to the park board at a meeting scheduled for 6 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 29. All costs, thus far, have been estimated.

Board President George Sykes emphasized the district will only have $1.3 million for the new facility, if the November referendum is approved by the voters.

WITH TIME drawing short, Sykes reminded the designers that a resolution calling for the referendum, including a general description of the proposed pool and the project's cost, must be approved and filed with Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles no later than Aug. 31, if it is to appear on the Nov. 6 ballot.

In other business Sykes signed another tax anticipation warrant to borrow $10,000 until real estate tax collection and distribution later this summer.

Other meetings are scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 29, at 6 p.m. for final approval of the pool drawings and cost estimate; Sept. 5 at 6:30 p.m., a public hearing on the truth in taxation resolution, and another regular board meeting on Sept. 12, all to be conducted in the Wilson Park office.

Action deferred on STP budget

A motion by Granite City Alderman Jake Varadani Tuesday night of the city council floor to defer action on the city's $2.3 million wastewater treatment plant budget was approved after questions arose about a proposed increase in the superintendent's salary.

Aldermen thought the raise amounted to a 25 percent increase. But Terrence McMillan, superintendent of the treatment plant, explained that a mix-up occurred because of the division of his salary into two different categories. He said that part of his salary ($28,547) was shown under the plant salaries and benefits heading. He said the remaining $1,293 was represented under the pretreatment program.

McMillan said that council members mistook the $28,547 as his total salary, when it was really $31,840.

According to McMillan, this accounted for their miscalculation of his salary increase. The proposed budget calls for a 12 percent increase, or a new salary of $35,660.

McMillan said he received clearance for the 12 percent increase for himself and his employees from Mayor Paul Schuler. He said that the meeting had been private and had occurred sometime in July.

McMillan said the raise for workers is part of the reason for the $60,000 increase in the 1984-85 budget. He said other large increases include U.S. Army pump station renovations ($176,000), regionalization costs ($95,000) and a new insurance policy on the plant buildings ($29,000).

He said that, despite the increase, the budget still is balanced, since the plant anticipates more than $2.3 million in revenues for the year.

Members of the sewage treatment plant committee will meet at 6 p.m. Monday in City Hall to discuss the budget.

Three Venice policemen promoted

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Three veteran officers of the Venice Police Department were promoted to the rank of sergeant at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council at the new Venice Senior Citizens' Center, Klein and Brown streets.

The mayor reported to aldermen the results of a recent police sergeant's test by naming the top candidates—Patrolmen Bruce Fletcher, Joe Meehan and Burt Reed, who were subsequently promoted to the higher rank.

Meehan joined the department on Oct. 1, 1962, while Reed became a member June 5, 1970. Fletcher was hired March 1, 1971.

In other business, the aldermen adopted a resolution establishing the salaries and wages of fire department members in 1984, with the increases retroactive to May 1.

The fire chief's salary was set at $470 per month, assistant fire chief, $362 monthly, fire calls, $10 each, and the rate for weekend firemen was approved at $13.38 per hour.

Permission also was granted for three members of the Venice Volunteer Fire Department to attend the annual state fire conference of the Illinois Firefighter's Association in Peoria, today through Sunday, Aug. 26.

Those who will attend at Fire Chief William Meehan, Assistant Chief Thomas McCosky and Firefighter Frederick Williams.

A public hearing on the tax levy will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the new Venice Senior Citizens' Center, Mayor Echols said.

GOSPEL SINGERS TO PERFORM SUNDAY

Several gospel singing groups will entertain at the Old Time Pentecostal Church, 22nd Street and Bryan Avenue, from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 26, the Rev. G. Perry announces.

Host group will be The Perry Family and featured performers include, Gethsemane, Mount Zion Quartet, and the Freedom Singers.

Pickup and RV inspections end

Almost one million Illinois pickup truck, van and recreational vehicle owners no longer face the cost and inconvenience of semi-annual mechanical safety inspections, under legislation supported by Sec. of State Jim Edgar and signed last week by Gov. James R. Thompson. The twice-yearly inspection fee was $15.

"This long overdue legislation eliminates the discrimination that has existed between small trucks, vans and recreational vehicles, which have been required to be inspected twice a year, and automobiles, which have not," Edgar said.

"Since many small trucks and vans today are used in place of a car as the family vehicle, it is only fair that we relieve their owners of the expense and bother of inspections."

"After working for this legislation for three years, I am pleased that Illinois has joined the growing ranks of states that recognize the inconvenience inspection programs cause without contributing to traffic safety," Edgar said.

Edgar said that 10 states have eliminated vehicle inspection programs since 1979, bringing to 28 the number of states that do not inspect vehicles.

Of those states, he said, 10 have "traffic safety records as good as or better than that of Illinois, which has one of the best highway safety records in the U.S."

"When the inspection program began in 1935, trucks were used primarily for farm and business purposes. Today, that is no longer the case."

Edgar said that of the 838,000 pickups and vans registered as trucks in Illinois, 134,000 are registered in the name of a commercial business. Illinois is the only state with an inspection program for trucks but not automobiles.

"This legislation makes sense from a practical and economical point of view, and continues our efforts to reduce unnecessary government interference in the lives of Illinois citizens," Edgar concluded.

Madison School Board adopts tentative budget

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

The Madison School Board Monday night approved a $6 million tentative budget for the 1984-85 school year. That budget is on display at administrative offices, 1707 Fourth St., and will be the subject of a public hearing Sept. 20. The board also will adopt the final budget on that date.

The proposed budget reflects a three percent increase over last year's budget of $5,860,850, but expenditures for last year were slightly under $4,766,000. Madison School Superintendent John Palchett says the surplus of just over $1 million has been incorporated into the proposed 1984-85 budget.

The tentative budget also contains a six percent pay increase for all school personnel, according to Palchett. A total of $4,966,150 has been budgeted for the education fund, which largely consists of teacher and non-teacher salaries. That is slightly higher than last year's education fund appropriation of $4,755,150. Of that, the school district actually spent $4,094,569.

Proposed appropriations for the education fund include $1,013,000 for elementary instruction, $508,000 for middle school instruction and $702,000 for high school instruction. The education fund appropriations also show $115,400 for board expenses. Palchett said such expenses include traveling, equipment, board office supplies, board secretary salaries, audits, legal services, election services and workmen's compensation, among other expenses. Last year, the board spent about $66,339 on such expenses.

The proposed budget allots $283,500 for transportation, $1,500 more than allotted last year, although only $144,901 was actually spent. Another $125,800 has been earmarked for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, with $111,078 actually spent last year.

Appropriations for the building fund total $679,000 for 1984-85, while $642,000 was appropriated last year. Only $274,199 was actually spent.

Bonds and interest expenditures for 1984-85 total $158,250, down from last year's appropriation and expenditure of $141,000.

In other action Monday night, the Madison School Board accepted the resignation of District Adaptive Physical Education Instructor Thomas H. Tucker. He has been with the district five years and is leaving to take a position with the Department of Defense Dependents' Schools in Germany.

Palchett reported to the board that the new roof is almost completed on Madison Middle School. Last month, the board awarded a contract to Lakeside Roofing Co. of Pontoon Beach to put a new roof on the A building at the Middle School. The company is installing a Carlisle roof, a rubber sheet roof with a 350 percent elasticity. Palchett said the roof should be completed by the opening of school next week.

A letter from Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold Briggs indicated to the board that Madison Senior High, Madison Middle School, Blair School, Harris School and Louis Baer School buildings have passed inspection and are approved for use during this school year.

The board approved hiring social work intern Sharron Bartle for the 1984-85 school year. Assistant Superintendent Wade James told the board that the intern will be paid approximately $8,000, which will be reimbursed to the school district through the School Social Work Internship Program.

Also approved by the board was a request from The Parents for Special Education to use a room in the high school for a typing course. The course is part of an evening class program to teach mentally handicapped adults vocational skills.

Finally, the board agreed to permit the Head Start Program to store some equipment in the old Dunbar School Annex until the end of September. Earlier, the board asked that the equipment be moved out of the school because of plans to demolish the facility. Those plans have been delayed.

Head Start officials have agreed to pay the school district $100 per week in compensation for the storage.

Council clarifies city pay raises

Granite City aldermen approved an amendment to the minutes of the Aug. 7 meeting, Tuesday which will help to clear up some confusion that has resulted concerning the pay raises for policemen, firemen, paramedics and Emergency Medical Technicians.

Mayor Paul Schuler told council members that the six percent lump sum to be paid to policemen and firemen for Fiscal Year 1983-84 is based only on their base salary for that year.

He also suggested that a sentence EAST ST. LOUIS MAN IS INJURED IN VENICE

Carlos G. Brisson, 58, of East St. Louis, sustained injuries this week when his auto, southbound on South Fourth Street in Venice, went off the road and traveled about 150 feet into a field near the railroad tracks and the Wiggins Highline.

Brisson was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Venice cracking down on trips for non-residents

In a strongly worded statement, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols stressed that only residents of Venice will be eligible to participate in trips to baseball games and other events which are paid for by the city and offered without cost, to senior residents.

"For the last 10 years we have sponsored these trips to ballgames and senior fairs and we've had numerous complaints about it (outsiders going)." "I want to make this perfectly clear and we insist that they adhere to the policy that no longer will we pay for anyone to go who does not reside in the city of Venice."

"Anyone who doesn't live in Venice is a guest when they come in to this building and, if they board a bus, they will have to pay. I don't want to hear these complaints again."

"We welcome people from outside, but not when they want to come in and take over. So starting right now—not next week, next month or next year—when the bus pulls up outside, nobody will be on it who is not from Venice unless they have paid their way," the mayor stressed. "Other communities won't let people from here go on any excursion without paying, so I think I've made it crystal clear what our policy is now."

This decision has been made by nine of the 10 aldermen—one I couldn't reach for comment—and the council is 100 percent behind it," the mayor stressed.

"Since we have this building, we don't have the same amount of money to spend and our sole obligation is to the city of Venice and the taxpayers," he said.

Record set straight on sidewalk problem

Granite City Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward told city council members Tuesday night that he wished to set the record straight concerning a problem that has surfaced in his ward.

Fisk cited a photograph which appeared in the Aug. 2 edition of the Press-Record. The photo showed a sidewalk problem in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue. The caption underneath the picture said that several city officials had been contacted about the uneven pavement, but none had done anything about it.

"I just wanted people to know that I had not been contacted about this thing before it came out in the paper," he said. "It came out Thursday and I got a phone call about it Friday morning."

Fisk said that upon questioning the owner of the property, he learned that the only persons who had been contacted were a street department employee and a Granite City police officer, who was getting his car repaired at the auto shop nearby.

"I think it was unfair to say that city officials had been contacted on the thing repeatedly when they hadn't," said Fisk.

Fisk told council members that the problem has since been brought to the attention of Street Superintendent Mac Warfield and that the buckled sidewalk will be repaired.

district should plan not only for basic obligations but also for growth in some budget areas.

The new budget document lists cash revenue of $25,525,363 and costs of $26,467,868, including contingency allocations "which we do not plan to spend."

IN HIS MESSAGE introducing the budget, Finance Director Norman Owea said that if an election fails and we are not able to find sources of borrowing to complete this school year, we will be required to inform the State Board of Education.

The notification would explain that School District Nine is in "financial difficulty."

"After certification of difficulty, the state would present financial guidelines for the district to develop, adopt and submit within 45 days," Owea related.

"THE STATE BOARD OF Education also has the authority to automatically dissolve a district, with the property and territory disposed of, if the district for one year fails to maintain a recognized public school."

"If any school district has become dissolved, the Madison County Board of School Trustees shall attach the territory to one or more districts."

"If the territory is added to two or more districts, the trustees shall divide the property of the dissolved district among the districts to which its territory is added."

BOARD PRESIDENT David Partney said the shortfall in the tentative amended budget needs to be eliminated before final enactment. Marketing of a bond issue requires attainment of spending and income balances both last year and this year, he added.

Partney suggested conferences between board members and administrators to devise budget details.

Melton agreed on the need to economize, but voiced doubt that district could reduce scheduled expenditures by another half-million dollars.

BECAUSE STAFFING already is virtually set for the new school year, except for sixth-day fall hiring, all 84-85 educational programs are to continue as long as there is money to operate.

Effective for 1985-86, deep staff and program cuts may be necessary but further building closings are unlikely, officials have indicated.

Pres. Partney said Tuesday night that state aid in 1984-85 will be $975,000 smaller than in 1983-84 due to a double monthly payment in the latter year; also, an assessment reduction will reduce real estate taxes by about $200,000.

A 20-CENT Hike was suggested by Melton in the education tax rate. He said the money is needed and that voters willing to authorize about 35 cents per $100 for bonds also might favor a new rate ceiling for the education fund.

The county clerk is to be notified by Sept. 6 what to include on the school district ballot.

Partney said he favored bond authorization without an election because it would have enabled the bonds to be issued in the early fall rather than the late fall, perhaps saving taxpayers $200,000 in interest. However, he chose not to issue a detailed defense of the proposal during the 30-day petition period.

THE RATIONALE for the refinancing plan is to be released soon. Officials think the recital of facts will be highly persuasive to taxpayers, parents and other citizens.

Melton said it would be helpful to him in making up his mind on the amount of monetary needs if the district also completes its compilation of estimated cash flow timing. A flow report for board study was promised in mid-summer but apparently is not yet ready, he related.

Board Member Monroe Worthen said such details will be essential in order for school authorities to be effective in outlining financial proposals to the public.

OWCA ATTEMPTED to contact an investment banker by telephone Tuesday evening. He said he will arrange for the banker to come here next Tuesday and possibly this weekend as well.

Owea told the board that real estate taxes currently due for collection total $6,364,219 for education and $953,914 for the building fund. The bulk of such revenue will be used to retire outstanding first-year tax anticipation warrants.

Partney urged that $660,000 from sale of schools be left for the time being in the district's building fund, where the money is drawing interest.

BOARD DISCUSSIONS this year have emphasized the importance of maintaining and upgrading buildings, particularly Granite City High School, and Mrs. Ruth Lahr of the board revived the topic Tuesday night.

Moving of home economics equipment from the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College, formerly Granite City High School North, to GCHS has been completed this summer, she was told by Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds.

Mrs. Lahr urged moving of science tables and equipment and obtaining verification from GCHS Principal Gilbert Walmesley that he wishes to obtain such items for GCHS from North, where he was principal during its 1973-83 life.

SUPT. FRANK KRAUS and Landman said the equipment is aging and cannot be easily dismantled and reconstructed, and that it might be better for the college and District Nine to consider alternatives, such as purchase of new science laboratory equipment for GCHS.

Kraus received board approval to review the subject in detail with Walmesley and then to negotiate with BAC, including possible financial participation.

the plaintiffs, defendants have caused to be discharged large quantities of pollutants, contaminants including lead into the air, water, soil and general environment which is a proximate and producing cause of substantial damage to plaintiffs' real and personal property," according to the lawsuit.

IT ALSO alleges that as a result, "high concentrations of lead have accumulated in the soil, water, homes, causing decay and loss of value to the structures on the realty and to personal property." It contends that the damage is "permanent and irreversible and has resulted in a substantial diminution in value of such property."

The suit alleges that the residents "have incurred and will continue to incur substantial expenses in their effort to abate the effects of lead deposits on their property" and that they "will continue to experience special damages including but not limited to personal discomfort and illness resulting from the contamination of their property, loss of the use and enjoyment of vegetable gardens and residential landscape, and loss of recreational use of their premises in general."

The lawsuit seeks general damages and exemplary or punitive damages in an amount to be determined by a jury, compensation for all special damages now and in the future, reimbursement of taxable costs, attorneys' fees and "such other and further relief as to court may appear just and equitable."

A MAP of the area surrounding the smelter is attached to the lawsuit and shows lead concentrations in the soil as high as 5,000 parts per million (ppm) on the smelter property and nearby warehouses, 2,000 ppm in an area from one to three blocks from the smelter, 1,000 ppm in much of the downtown area south of 19th Street, 500 ppm from parts of West Granite east to Granite City Steel and north to parts of 22nd Street. Concentrations of 200 ppm are shown as far as two miles from the smelter, according to the map.

The suit states the maximum limit for safe lead levels is less than 50 ppm.

THE SUIT contends that numerous other property owners within the city of the smelter have suffered damage to their property and have not been properly compensated for their damage, so it seeks class action status to "adequately protect the interests of the class."

The attorney says it was decided at this time only to seek damages for lead on the ground, not for the health hazard it imposes, although that is touched upon in the current lawsuit.

The case was initiated when some owners of property directly bordering the smelter complained that their property was being damaged by lead and auto batteries on the property "spilled upon their property. They have suffered out-of-pocket damages already," cleaning up the lead, Brandt said.

"OTHERS HAVE not suffered out-of-pocket yet, but we anticipate they will some time in the near future," he added.

Brandt said the procedure of notifying every potentially affected Quad-City area resident will be a "long process," but predicted that the case will be ready when it is set to go to the federal court, which is usually within 18 months.

Township reduces budget by $3,000

Granite City Township Town Board members approved an amended version of the township tax levy Tuesday night, which reduced the budget by $3,000.

Attorney William Schooley Jr. said the reduction in the budget was necessary to avoid a second public hearing on the levy. He said any levy which is in excess of five percent of the previous year's budget is subject to this review.

Although the budget was reduced a total of $3,000, some shifting was made within the budget. The hospitalization fund was reduced $11,000 and the administration line item was increased $8,000.

Schooley said he does not know why the money was shifted in these items. He said his father, William Schooley Sr., is handling the township levy. Schooley Sr. is out of town until next Monday.

Neither could Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer be reached for comment on the line item changes.

Resolution is passed to lower gas prices

Granite City Council members approved a resolution Tuesday night which supports a referendum question concerning the Natural Gas Consumer Relief Act. If enough support is shown, the issue will be placed on the November election ballots.

The act would allow Congress to roll back home heating bills and would limit future gas price increases. It is estimated that the act would save the average family $371 over the next three years.

"I think we at least owe it to the consumer to give him a chance to vote on it," said Mayor Paul Schuler.

No bids received on roof repairs

A second round of bidding for roof repairs at the Granite City Street department resulting in no bidders and prompted Mayor Paul Schuler to ask that the price of the repairs be negotiated.

Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield told city council members last month that the roof on the street department is in desperate need of repairs because it is leaking badly.

Schuler suggested that Warfield call some roofing contractors and bring the quotes back to the council.

Other requests to advertise for bids which the council approved were for: five cars for the police department; two snow plows and two spreaders for the street department; painting of the main fire station, a 1984 or 1985 station wagon for the fire department; for polymer paper at the sewage treatment plant, and rebids for demolition of some properties in Granite City.

County again avoids valuation multiplier

Madison County has been issued a final property assessment equalization factor of 1.0, J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue, said Monday in Springfield. This means the absence of a multiplier on the real estate valuations certified by the county.

The equalization factor, often called the multiplier, is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties as required by Illinois law.

This equalization is particularly important because some of the state's 6,000 local taxing districts overlap into two or more counties, such as school districts, college districts and fire protection districts. If there was no equalization among counties, substantial inequities among taxpayers with comparable properties would result," Johnson related.

Under a law passed in 1975, property in Illinois should be assessed at one-third of its market value. Farm property is assessed differently, with farm homesites and dwellings subject to regular assessment and equalization procedures, but with farmsteads assessed at one-third of its agricultural economic value. Farmland is not subject to the state multiplier.

Assessments in Madison County are at 33.49 percent of market value, based on sales of properties in 1980, 1981 and 1982. That level was achieved by the county with the aid of township multipliers set by Madison County's Board of Review.

The equalization factor currently being assigned is for 1983 taxes, payable in 1984. Last year's equalization factor for the county, also, is 1.0.

"The final assessment equalization factor was issued after a public hearing on the tentative factor. The tentative factor issued in April 1984 for Madison County was .0419," Johnson noted.

"The equalization factor is determined annually for each county by comparing the price of individual properties sold over the past three years to the assessed value placed on those properties by the county assessment authorities."

"If this three-year average level of assessment is one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be one. If the average level of assessment is greater than one-third, the factor will be less than one. And if the average is less than one-third of market value, the equalization factor will be greater than one."

"A change in the factor does not mean total property tax bills will increase or decrease. Tax bills are determined by local taxing bodies when they request money each year to provide services to local citizens. If the amount requested by local districts is not greater than the amount received in the previous year, then total property taxes will not increase even if assessments increase."

"The assessed value of an individual real estate property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume. That individual's portion of tax responsibility is not changed by the multiplier."

New school budget is half-million short

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A revised tentative budget approved by the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night shows a possible new deficit of $512,535.

The debt-ridden district may try to find ways to cut the already "bare bones" appropriation by that amount between now and final action Sept. 25.

NORMAN S. OWCA, director of finance, said the inch-thick budget seeks to "explain how we identify and allocate resources to maximize the delivery of quality education to the children."

"Between Aug. 23 and Sept. 25, this amended tentative budget will be on display in the board office (20th and Adams streets). It will be reviewed by the administrative staff and board, with possible implementation changes."

"One and a half years ago, the board adopted a plan to reduce expenditures without eliminating programs, so that it would have a balanced 1983-84 budget."

"THIS GOAL was accomplished through consolidation of buildings, programs and staff in excess of $5,375,000 in reduced expenditures in the education fund."

"Six schools were closed for 1983-84. This did not result in a financial loss to taxpayers because revenue was received from sale of three buildings. One building is being rented to Belleville Area College."

"Since the rental fee is partially based on enrollment and the college exceeded its original enrollment goal by 30 percent last year, this building not only provided a facility that addressed significant community needs but also increased our rental income."

"The contract requires that BAC pay necessary maintenance and operating costs of the building."

"THE OTHER RESULT of building consolidation enabled us to increase the allocation of maintenance dollars. This benefited the buildings that remained open, and made it possible to reduce, or eliminate the $106,573 debt in the building fund. The building fund ended 1983-84 with a positive cash balance of $182,036."

"Newly implemented in the past fiscal year were numerous internal programs of budgeting and fiscal controls. We now have financial systems and procedures in place to provide for greater efficiency in maximizing delivery of educational services at the least cost to taxpayers."

"Greater management commitment to a more decentralized budgeting process will further assist building-level administrators to have direct impact on spending of monies budgeted to their schools."

"ALTHOUGH ENROLLMENT is projected to continually decline by two percent a year, this is not a significant change for one year. Consequently, this budget was proposed with the bare minimum employment of staff, and with projected reduced costs held to the lowest level possible."

"Provision is made for possible employment of two more special education teachers, one more high school teacher and one additional elementary teacher if the need arises based on enrollment and applicable state requirements."

"The budget calls for the most prudent use of monies in order to continue to deliver quality academic and special program education to our children."

"UNFORTUNATELY, the education fund shows a potential $512,535 excess of expenditures over revenues on the cash side - $768,210 excess on an accrual basis. (Provision for contingencies is subtracted because this is not a planned expenditure.)

"Circumstances beyond our control have caused this cash shortfall for the 1984-85 school year. With real estate property assessments declining, we will suffer a net loss of $163,522 in education fund revenues."

"Special education funding has been reduced $65,000. Four-month delays in processing real estate tax bills is costing the district $89,294 in additional interest."

"ANOTHER FACTOR is the one-time anticipated cost of $160,875 which will incur to determine the real property value of a local industry (Granite City Steel)."

"These circumstances account for $477,001 of the projected need for $512,535 in additional borrowing."

"If it were not for these events, we would have been able to provide a tentative budget with no increase in the need for cash borrowing above last year's level and a possible balanced budget. However, the administration will proceed with recommendations to the board for further cost reductions."

"THIS NOVEMBER will be a historic one for the school system when citizens have an opportunity to provide additional revenue in order for us to continue to provide a variety of quality educational programs."

"If the working cash fund bond issue fails and we are unable to find sources of borrowing to complete this school year, we will be required to inform the State Board of Education that we are in financial difficulty."

"After certificates of financial difficulty, the State Board would present financial guidelines for our board to develop, adopt and submit within 45 days."

"THE STATE Board of Education also has authority to automatically dissolve a district, with the property and territory disposed of in a manner provided for in the Illinois School Code."

"If a district has been dissolved, the County Board of School Trustees attaches the territory to one or more districts."

Arrest two men at Kirkpatrick Homes

John R. Dukes, 24, and Bruce E. Dukes, 21, both of 3901 Gaslight Walk, Ponton beach, were booked on various charges following an incident last week in the 4700 block of the Kirkpatrick Homes. They were released after each posted a $206 cash bond.

Officers were called to the housing complex after a report of a man swinging a shovel at people and screaming. An officer saw a man, later identified as Bruce Dukes, walking in the 3600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, and ordered him to drop a shovel he was carrying. At first the man wouldn't comply, but then dropped the shovel; it was alleged.

At the time, John Dukes walked up yelling at the officers and was advising to leave. He continued to yell and made obscene remarks toward the officers, goading them that they couldn't catch him as he ran from the scene, it was alleged.

John Dukes was caught in the complex's 3500 block. In the chase, an officer lost a pair of handcuffs when they fell to the ground and were picked up by two boys who also ran away, it was noted.

Bruce Dukes was charged with aggravated assault, disorderly conduct and unlawful trespass to property. John Dukes was charged with resisting a peace officer, disorderly conduct and unlawful trespass to property.

Miklovic wants car, gets mileage reimbursed

Granite City Comptroller Joe Miklovic became angered at the city council meeting Tuesday night when a request to be reimbursed for mileage incurred while conducting city business was questioned by members of the city's finance committee. He also had asked that all major maintenance and insurance costs be reimbursed at 100 percent of the cost.

Miklovic told committee members that, at the time of his hiring in October 1981, finance committee members promised him that he would receive a salary package of $32,000 and a city vehicle for his use. He said he has never received a city vehicle.

HE SAID he feels a request for mileage and maintenance in surplus reimbursement is "fair and equitable," in light of what had been promised him.

Miklovic said members of the committee at that time were Aldermen Paul Ray Fowler and Fred "Pat" Schuman and former alderman Warren Decatur.

Bowler, who is not a member of the present committee, but who sat in on the discussion, denied the promise. "We said at the time, that we would give you a car if we could afford it, but we couldn't," he said.

HE ADDED that Miklovic had asked for a written contract at the time of his hiring, but the city refused.

Miklovic had been very disheartened by the way the city has handled their gentlemen's agreement. "Back then you were desperate, but now that things are running smoothly, people are having lapses of memory," he said. "I think what was said has been tarnished."

"Back then you (the aldermen's) backs were against the wall. I'm confident that you would have afforded me the keys to the city to receive his services."

FINANCE Committee Chairman Sam Whitmer said he is not responsible for what other committees promised. He said he is in favor of reimbursing Miklovic for mileage and other out-of-pocket expenses incurred in city duties, but that he is not in favor of the maintenance and insurance reimbursements.

Committee Member Jake Varadjan was in favor of a different form of reimbursement. He suggested that Miklovic's salary be raised $1,000 to $33,000.

Varadjan said that when the city was first looking for a comptroller, the council set a salary cap for the job at $35,000 and he feels Miklovic should be paid this top scale. "When you look at all of the overtime and extra duties Miklovic has taken on, I'm for giving him his $35,000," he said.

"THERE HAS NOT been one time when a department head could not go to him and find out where the city was financially. We've never had that kind of service from anyone."

Varadjan suggested that the salary increase be retroactive to May 1984.

But Whitmer and Alderman Phillip Miller did not concur with the recommendation.

Whitmer's motion during the regular council meeting was that Miklovic be paid mileage and other out-of-pocket expenditures. That motion was passed by the council.

Panel of citizens to study school needs

A 30-member citizen committee which will grow to 42 or more was named at Tuesday night's Granite City School Board meeting to advise the district on short-term and five-year needs.

The committee will be divided into four groups: kindergarten through sixth grade, seventh and eighth grades, high school, and buildings and grounds.

Each group will deal with five topics: direct instruction provided as part of the general education program, direct instruction provided through support programs, educational support services, extracurricular programs, and buildings, grounds and facilities.

The 30 were designated by School Treasurer Kelly Hogan, who said he will advise six special education parents and an individual from each of three newspapers, two banks and the labor council.

Saying he had no disagreement with the names submitted but did disagree with the selection process, only one of seven Board of Education members, Board Member Monroe Worthen asked whether more persons could be added at the suggestion of various board members. Hogan agreed to this.

After a second by Board Member Alan Crider, approval of the committee was declared on a fairly heated voice vote.

Hogan had just told the board, "On June 29 I read a prepared statement, which was my opinion of the many problems and their causes that face this district presently."

In that statement, I proposed that a special committee be formed to actively address and to recommend to this board a well-designed and planned educational system - a system that will represent a five-year plan with projected income and expenses as well as planned educational opportunities.

I further proposed that the members of this committee consist of parents, citizens and business leaders who have a strong commitment to the educational future of this community.

"The members I will name represent truly a cross-section of this community. They are fully prepared to assume the responsibilities and duties of this committee."

"The committee pledges to fulfill these duties no later than Jan. 1, 1985."

"It will at that time submit to this board a complete and practical proposal for a five-year educational system, for this community and Board of Education to adopt and with which to proceed."

"It is the intent that, by dividing into four groups and covering five areas, the committee will be able to address all of the significant areas of educational needs and benefits - as well as opportunities that we as parents and citizens wish to offer to future generations, and that we as taxpayers can afford."

"I would like to ask Mrs. Ruth Lahr (a school board member) to serve as co-chairman of this committee."

"The following people have volunteered to serve: Lee Thomas, Zola Burgess, Cheryl Crawford, Marilyn Roney, Estelle Massie, Woody Moad, Rita Young, Nancy Kern, June Branding, Ron Burton."

"Emil Klug, Jim Pennenkamp, Dave Schermer, Dan Hines, Paul Costello, Eric Robertson, Bill Thompson, Hoyd Presley."

"Frank Hollis, Donna Kimbro, Dave Morgan, Norman Hall, John Novotny, Marshall Schroeder, Joe Papa, Gerald Lakin, Ed Kellogg, Carolyn Smith, Dorothy Lijewski and Barbara Schmiedeknecht."

The following list of personnel is appointed to the committee in an advisory capacity:

Local composer signs with recording agents

Richard Dunlap, 2816 Pershing Blvd., has signed three recording contracts with two companies and expects to have the creations on record this year.

Two contracts are with Chapel Recording Company for "The Throne Room of Judgement" and "A Little Child's Prayer." The former song has been recorded by Dottie Frost, recording artist.

Dunlap received a letter from Ted Rosen, president of the company, and Virginia Baldwin, an associate of Rosen's, that the song is a unique gospel selection and should be sold.

The third contract for "A Daddy's Prayer," was signed with Nashville Songwriter's Service. The material was returned to the local composer for his approval and he forwarded it to Conway Twitty's Music Publishing Co. for consideration and possible release.

Dunlap has also had four of his poems published by The People's Bible Publishing Co. of Los Angeles and has received letters from Tammy Faye Bakker of the P.T.L. Club and President Ronald Reagan's office complimenting his work and talent.

RICHARD DUNLAP

The Granite City man has written 79 poems, two short stories and is currently working on a novel.

Venice needs middle income housing not more projects, alderman states

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

"We don't need more low income housing in Venice. In fact, we are becoming a city of housing projects. We need housing for the middle class," Fourth Ward Alderman Vincent Valentine Sr. stressed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

The subject of additional low income housing complexes and complaints by several residents of deteriorating property in the community occupied the aldermen's attention for a good part of the meeting.

THE COUNCIL met in the new Venice Senior Citizens' Center, Bissell and Klein streets, and its first session there drew an audience of more than 30 residents.

The unusually large crowd resulted in one of the more lively meetings, with Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols resorting to the gavel on occasions to bring a little formality to the proceedings.

Valentine said his comments referred to a new story in Monday's Press-Record which reported applications have been made by the Madison County Housing Authority to U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for almost $3 million in housing development grants to help pay for median and low income housing in Madison and Venice.

"WE HAVE enough projects in our city and it seems as if they just want to put more and more low income housing here. I am against any more projects in the city of Venice, especially in our ward (Fourth Ward). We already have two," Valentine continued. (Both Viola Jones and Lee Wright Homes are located in Ward 4.)

"We need housing that brings in revenue, so let's try to increase our revenue. There's no tax base from these (low income project) homes and there has to be a stopping point to putting in low income public housing," he stated.

According to Madison County Housing Authority Executive Director Bert Hampton, the grant application seeks funding for two new construction projects in Venice.

HAMPTON SAID last week that another $1.7 million is requested for Venetian Court East, to be constructed on property adjacent to Venice Homes on South Fourth Street. That project, he noted, would provide 40 units, 20 of which would be for housing for the elderly while the remaining 20 units would be townhouse-style units for the non-elderly.

The other new project proposed for Venice is Venetian Court West, which would be constructed across from the Bissell Street Apartments at a cost of $2.5 million.

That project would provide 40 one-bedroom homes for the elderly and 20 townhouses designated for non-elderly tenants.

HAMPTON SAID the grants are part of a new program and this is the first time the housing authority has applied for this grant money.

The applications, submitted to HUD last week, will be in competition for funding on a nationwide basis. A decision on the grants is expected within the next two months, the housing authority director advised.

Mayor Tyrone Echols reported meeting with Hampton some weeks ago. "I believe the agreement was for senior citizen housing on scattered sites, which would have a tax base and fill up some of the vacant lots," he said.

"I DON'T KNOW what the intent and purpose of HUD is now and it depends which way their funding goes. All this time, the available funds are only for elderly or low income housing, but possibly there is some money in there for moderate income homes," the mayor said.

Commenting on the present housing complexes in Venice, Mayor Echols said, "I don't know anyone in the Lee Wright Homes anymore or where they come from."

Second Ward Alderman Hank Svezia asked whether the city can specify that persons living in current or future housing projects already be residents of the community.

"BEFORE THEY can do anything (construct new housing), you will have to vote on it," Mayor Echols reminded the council.

"I think there is movement in the Lee Wright and Venice Homes to modernize them," the mayor said, responding to a comment by Valentine that existing property should be remodeled before new construction is added.

Speaking about the current state of Venice public housing, Third Ward Alderman George Lewis said, "Looks are deceiving. The Venice Homes have been repainted, which is fine, but the inside of the Lee Wright Homes had sewer system problems and Viola Jones is falling down," he added.

"THE TENANTS also are not taking care of the property," Lewis contended. "We put siding up on one side of a building and the kids take it down on the other side," he pointed out.

Mayor Echols agreed there are parental supervision problems, but added, "With the rents now being charged, I expect them (the housing authority) to move out on these people who had to flee from there because of termites and other things."

The mayor commended Hampton, the housing authority's new executive director, however, stating "I believe he is taking a positive attitude about it."

ALTHOUGH THE prospect of new housing engaged the aldermen's deliberations for some time, the deterioration of existing property that attracted the more vocal attention of the audience.

The comments focused on whether or not current residents of specific dwellings have received occupancy permits, or are living in condemned houses or in homes for which only repair permits have been granted.

A woman in the audience produced photographs showing the dilapidated conditions and debris at a home on the 600 block of Fillmore Street. "I understood the house was condemned and now he's working on it," she said.

"I'VE PUT UP a fence so I don't have to look over there, but I have a swimming pool and the rats are all over it."

"Because of the rats, I won't take the trash out anymore, my husband has to do it. That house is full of rats," she stressed.

Mayor Echols viewed the photos and stated, "I have an agreement with them, but there will be no permit issued for occupancy," he assured the residents.

"HERE WE HAVE a lady trying to fix her home and this happens. I'd give that man 10 days, that's all," he said, speaking to a city inspector about the owner of the property.

A discussion ensued and it was decided to renew the practice of one or both aldermen accompanying a city inspector before an occupancy permit is granted to an alderman. "I'm not saying the city inspectors are negligent, but sometimes they are too compassionate. I hope the message I'm giving is not falling on deaf ears."

"I strongly urge the city inspectors not to give approval on any property unless an alderman is with you," the mayor said.

ANOTHER woman resident from the 1000 block of Calhoun Street added her comments. "This happens," she reported that "rats as big as cats" were prevalent in property adjacent to her house. "A man was hired to take out the debris, but the rats drove him out," she said.

Plenty of rats also are being seen around a dwelling in the 200 block of Kerr Street where the property is full of debris, a man said. He also asked for action to remedy the situation.

Other addresses mentioned for legal attention were in the 600 block of Jefferson and the 1200 block of Robin Street.

Soccer club seeks funds to upgrade complex

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Greg Pusczek and Clint Potter each share a similar dream. And they're both optimistic and ambitious enough that someday it may come true.

Pusczek and Potter are current officers in the Quad-Cities Soccer Association. Pusczek is treasurer while Potter serves as president. Together, with the help of QCSA members and community support, they hope to develop the 12-acre soccer complex recently dedicated along Illinois Route 3 on North Street adjacent to the old Prather Junior High School.

THEIR immediate goal is to provide adequate parking to the fields and enclose the complex with a chain-link fence, thereby making it more accessible to the fields and the concession area. That, they estimate, will cost $30,000.

"Initially, we hope to get people to the fields, get them used to using them. Then we can make further improvements," Pusczek said.

The Association's long-range goal should make the local complex one of the best in Illinois, rivaling even the soccer fields at Alton's Gordon Moore Park, featuring lighted, totally fenced and expertly manicured fields. But that, the pair estimates, will cost in excess of $100,000 and is probably several years down the road.

THE BEST — and most practical — way the pair sees of achieving their goals is to employ not only their own efforts and the efforts of the QCSA, but the efforts of Granite City's other soccer clubs.

"We're asking for total community support, including the other soccer clubs," Pusczek said. "Our goal is not to make this the Quad-Cities Soccer Association Soccer Complex, but Granite City's Soccer Complex. We want everyone to play there."

Pusczek said currently the Quad-Cities Soccer Association is playing on three different fields in the Quad-City area. And, he says, the other soccer clubs in Granite City are also searching for field-to-play.

"GRANITE CITY is known for its soccer teams, not its soccer fields. We want it to be known for both," Pusczek said. "This area can't expect to maintain the quality soccer programs it has without an adequate area to play and practice. So, how does Pusczek, Potter and the QCSA plan to go about to change all that?

The solution is simple, Pusczek said of the plans to develop the soccer complex.

"We're instituting a letter-writing campaign to area businesses and industries which will be followed up by phone calls," Pusczek said. "We're even planning a door-to-door campaign. We hope enough people realize the benefits of such a complex that we can achieve our goals."

PUSZEK said the association's strategy for its fund-raising campaign will culminate during the QCSA kick-off week of the fall season.

"During the week of Sept. 2-8, which we will publicize as 'Soccer Week,' we hope to reach our projected goal of $30,000. Our fund drive will culminate with our annual parade."

The annual parade, Pusczek said, will include the approximate 1,000 boys and girls of the QCSA, and also young athletes from Granite City's other soccer clubs — the Madison County Girls' Soccer Association and the Granite City Soccer Club.

The parade will begin at Nantooki School, progress east on Pontoon Road before ending on the St. Elizabeth Soccer Fields.

TUESDAY morning, Pusczek and Potter instituted the fund-raising drive as Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler declared the first week in September Soccer Week in Granite City by signing such proclamation.

"We know how much soccer has meant to Granite City and how much Granite Cityans have meant to Illinois soccer. Certainly two of my children, Terry and Fred, are a testament to that," the mayor said of two of his soccer playing offspring.

I appeal to whatever source — available industry and other businesses — to help with this program, keep soccer strong in our city," Pusczek said.

ALTHOUGH Pusczek and Potter have set their sights on Sept. 8 as the date in which the drive will end, QCSA is planning other fund raisers during the course of the year. For example, the group has tentatively planned a "chicken-beer dance on

ALL FOR SOCCER. Greg Pusczek, left, and Clint Potter, right, officers of the Quad-Cities Soccer Association flank Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler as he signs a proclamation dedicating the week of Sept. 2-8 as Quad-Cities Soccer

Nov. 10 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in the old Johnson School.

"We're trying to fulfill a need here in Granite City," Potter said. "Granite City needs more soccer fields and we're, with the help of the public, trying to supply them."

Persons seeking further information about QCSA's plans for the soccer complex or may be interested in refereeing for the association's fall league should call either Pusczek or Potter at 451-1583 or 452-1809 respectively. To make a contribution to the complex, persons should make checks payable to the QCSA Soccer Complex Project and mail to PO Box 624, Granite City, Ill. 62240.

Hires Four Coaches

Unit 9 fills remaining vacancies

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

Acting upon the recommendations of Terry Salem, administrative assistant-personnel, and Joe Fedora, director for athletics and physical education, Granite City School District Unit Nine Tuesday approved the hiring of four coaches for various positions in the district.

The hirings filled the remaining coaching vacancies for the fall sports seasons. All but one of the hirings involved filling positions at the junior high level.

Hired to assist Wilma Schulze with the GCHS volleyball program, Tina Ethridge is a 1980 graduate of Granite City North High School and a 1984 graduate of Eastern Illinois University with a degree in physical education. Ethridge, 22, fills the vacancy left by Connie King who resigned her position to accept the head volleyball coach's position at Grigsby Junior High School.

For Mrs. King, who assisted with Granite City North's volleyball team in 1982 and with Granite City High's program last year, accepting the position at Grigsby is more of a reappointment than an appointment.

NEW A physical education teacher at GCHS, she was on the teaching-coaching staff which opened Grigsby in 1968. She taught at Grigsby before taking a leave of absence three years later. "I don't know what you can call it," Mrs. King said of her move back to Grigsby. "It's nice to be a head coach, but many people would consider an assistant coach's position at the high school a higher priority than a head coach's position at a junior high."

"I will say that coaching at Grigsby is better for me and I think it'll be better for the volleyball program," King said. "I know how Wilma is coaching the girls at the high school and I think it's important to have someone on the junior high level doing the same thing."

King, 39, fills the vacancy left by Al Lewis Jr., who is now an assistant GCHS varsity football coach. King will continue to teach physical education at GCHS.

THE remaining two recommendations by Fedora and Salem filled vacancies at Coldridge Junior High School. The board approved the recommendation to hire Vincenzo (Jim) DeLeonardis as the Braves' head football coach.

DeLeonardis has worked as an assistant football, basketball and track coach at Coldridge and as an assistant varsity football coach at Granite City High School two years ago under head coach Jerry McKechn.

With the district six years, DeLeonardis, 45, fills the vacancy left by Keith Parker who resigned the position to spend more time with his family.

HE'S BEEN a varsity assistant and I really don't see my job with eighth grade students being much different," DeLeonardis said. "For many of them it will be their first opportunity to be part of an organized team so part of my duties will be to introduce them to the mechanics of football and the sport."

When asked how he felt about filling the position left by Parker who led the Braves to a Madison County Junior High Conference championship last year, DeLeonardis displayed a great deal of diplomacy.

"I'M NOT too worried about winning. Keith's done a fine job with the program already. And as for replacing Keith, I don't think that's possible. Keith's the Vince Lombardi of Coldridge football. I'm simply the new coach," DeLeonardis said.

The board's fourth action on extracurricular activities approved the hiring of Jake Varadian as Coldridge's head volleyball coach.

Varadian, 46, is a fifth grade teacher at Prather Elementary School and he and his wife, Barbara, have been teachers in the district for 14 years. Coaching is not something new to Varadian. Formerly the seventh and eighth grade basketball coach at Prather Junior High, he has more recently assisted GCHS' girls' basketball coach Gordon Galbreath.

City tourney winding down

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — During the past week, Granite City Park District softball league champions have been matching their skills against one another in the Granite City Tournament.

The annual double-elimination event pits the top teams from each league against each other to determine the city champions.

The men's tournament, which matches the league champions from the park district's 14 men's and high school boys' leagues, has come through with several surprises.

In the upper bracket, where the 9A league champion, Eagles, were expected to easily advance to the finals, City Temple, from the Church 3A league, upset the favorite, 8B, sending the Eagles into the losers' bracket.

CITY TEMPLE reached the match with the Eagles by defeating Lee Mac's, of the 1A league, 20-2, and Madison Lane Duck, from the 6A league, 10-0.

The win puts City Temple into Thursday's 8 p.m. winner's bracket final at Worthen Park against the winner of the lower bracket, the American Legion.

The American Legion team of the 7A league advanced to the finals of the winners bracket by also pulling an upset. In the semi-finals, American Legion defeated Razor's Edge of the 8A league, 1-14.

American Legion reached the semi-finals against Razor's Edge by defeating Geo's of the 5A league, 15-9. They also defeated Glenview Chapel in the first round by forfeit.

THE MEN'S finals, which pits the winner of the loser's bracket against the winner of the winner's bracket, will be held Friday night at Worthen Park. The game will begin at 8 p.m.

with a second game scheduled for 9 p.m. If the loser's bracket winner should be victorious.

In the women's tournament, G & G Car Wash, of the 6A league, have made a clean sweep of the night's play. They then advanced to the winner's bracket championship. While scoring 55 runs in just three games, G & G Car Wash has held all of their opponents scoreless.

In their first game, G & G Car Wash defeated Sammy's, of the 1A league, 2-0. They then advanced to the semi-finals where the defeated Little Casars High School team, 12-0.

In the finals of the winner's bracket, G & G Car Wash defeated Nameoki Village Auto Marine, the winner of the 5A league, 10-0.

Tonight, G & G will meet the team that advances from the loser's bracket final in an 8 p.m. contest at Wilson Park.

Blackpool kickers edge Cougars 4-2

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — Soccer fans of the Southern Illinois Cougars at Edwardsville Cougars had every right to be highly optimistic about the upcoming season as their team lost a bitterly-fought 4-2 decision to a finely-tuned team from Blackpool, England, on the Lady of Loreto field before a capacity crowd.

The English eleven, on a 25-game tour of the United States, had opened their tour of the "colonies" last Saturday night by defeating the University of Missouri, St. Louis, convincingly, 5-0, and Monday night by coasting 2-0, over the Bills of St. Louis U.

The British team early on showed their maturity by scoring on a direct penalty kick just seven minutes into the game. The stars of the touring eleven from Great Britain vary from their 36-year-old goalie, the quick as a cat, Dave Hancock, to the 19-year-old Granite City's Steve Trittschuh, who played a brilliant game in defense for the Cougars, accidentally tripped by stepping on his heel in the zone) Blackpool's tiny little forward, Mark Jones and defender Paul Maguire took the kick and appeared to be foiled when SUE's goalie, Dave Cappetta, made a fantastic save. However, the official ruled that the Cougars' keeper had moved and awarded the visitor's another try. Cappetta again got a second chance, but couldn't hold on to it and it rolled in.

The first half just narrowly missed ending up in a draw when Alton's Marquette High ace, John Stone just barely missed on a boomer from about 25 feet out right before the first 45 minutes elapsed. John Stone, Hundert, who with Trittschuh, is a key man in the Cougars' defense, failed to "clear" a ball and the Blackpoolers' Kevin Gerard grabbed the ball and deftly passed it to forward Chris O'Donnell, the visitors' leading scorer and striker, who routinely looted the ball past a diving Cappetta.

The score came at 51 minutes. And, when Blackpool scored just 12 minutes later to make it 3-0 on a pass from O'Donnell to Nick Jones, it looked like the more experienced English team was going to make a rout of the game.

And at 74 minutes, the large contingent of Cougars fans on hand couldn't have been faulted if they had headed for their cars to escape the traffic jam.

But they didn't as the Cougar players never gave up. And, at 80 minutes into the game, SUE's striker, Bill Stallings, headed for the English goal and was hit by a perfect pass from the Cougars' captain, Leo Bourneau, who was seeing his first action after setting out the entire season last year.

Then, with just five minutes left in the contest, sub G. P. Boyer, dribbling toward the goal suddenly passed off the streaking Bourneau, who beat the veteran English keeper fair and square.

That made it 4-2 and made the game's statistics showed the young SUE team had played on even terms with the team from Great Britain: same on corner kicks, six; shots on goal, 20 for Blackpool and 18 for SUE. The only stat that favored Blackpool, was in fouls. They registered 23 to 19 for the Cougars.

The Cougars' annual Alumni Game will be this Sunday at SUE starting at 1:30 p.m. Their regular season opener will be Wednesday night at South East Missouri State of Cape.

Wednesday Night

Grand slam secures Spanky's win

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The score was more like a low-scoring football game, but the previous three games between the East Alton Stags and the 7-Up/Spanky's had been, too.

Last night in first-round action in Metro East Night League play, the player manager Bill Stolle and his Spanky's used a ninth inning grand slam homer by their catcher, Joey Gasaway, to edge Manager Jim Blackledge and his Stags, 13-11. Just a week ago, the Stags had fallen to Spanky's, 9-7. July 25, the Stags had prevailed, 11-10, and the night before the two teams had battled to a 8-8 tie at Granite City.

In the Metro League race,

Spanky's finished first with a 1-1 record, while the Stags were a close second with a 10-2 record.

The Spanky's will play Wednesday at Hoppe Park against the winner of the Trenton vs. Marissa game.

It looked bad for Spanky's as the Stags bunched out a 3-0 lead on a three-run homer by Scott Posey, coach of the Lewis & Clark Junior College team.

In the fourth, 7-Up/Spanky's pulled to within one run, 4-5, of the Stags with the key hit coming off the bat of Granite City native Tom Greco, who rejoined the team after a four-week layoff. It was his single which scored Spanky's final two runs in their three-run fourth.

Greco finished the game 4-for-5 with two runs batted in. But, going into the bottom half of the ninth, Spanky's trailed the Stags, 11-9. And it looked like it was all over for the home team.

Jack Scarborough, who has been on base more times this season than any other Spanky's hitter, fled deep to center, but the ball was pulled down at the fence. Billy Buntton singled, Stolle singled, putting runs on first and second.

Up came Greco and his big bat. They walked him to load the bases.

Joe Gasaway hit the first pitch by Scott Schaffer and the ball is still up there in orbit.

The victory ran Spanky's record to 42-20, the best ever in the team's 8th year of play.

'Mr. Soccer' gets just reward

Ruben Mendoza To Be Inducted Into Hall

By PAUL WISE of the Press-Record
Ruben Mendoza, known as "Mr. Soccer" among Granite City soccer enthusiasts, was recently notified of his induction into the Old Time Soccer Hall of Fame. Mendoza will be honored for his accomplishments and sportsmanship both on and off the field at a banquet Oct. 4 at the Henry VIII Inn and Lodge in St. Louis.

Mendoza represented the United States in three Olympics, 1922, 1926, and 1960 and two World Cup squads in 1953 and 1957 during his playing years. In the 1950s, he was also a member of the locally famous Kuts team of St. Louis which captured eight national titles.

THE LOCAL hall of fame is also responsible for starting the first local youth soccer program for boys in 1961. He began his program for Granite City youths in the early sixties after his own playing career was cut short by a knee injury. Although he began his crusade by teaching soccer skills to a few area youngsters at the Coolidge Jr. High School field, Mendoza has played a crucial role in the establishment of the youth program in Granite City. "When I was approached by the YMCA to coach, I didn't know I would be getting involved with the labor and administration of the program. That was where all the real work was," said Mendoza.

"I just wanted to start a program to develop soccer on the East Side. I think I accomplished more there than I did the whole time I was playing."

MENDOZA, who said he has seen "so many good players and a lot of talent come through the Granite City program" feels his biggest thrill during his soccer career, has been just to see how the kids have developed over the years.

This year's women's team that went to the Prairie State Games was probably his most enjoyable," said Mendoza of his championship squad.

"They were all very well disciplined, so it was easy for me."

"They're so dedicated. I've never seen a team as dedicated as they were."

Mendoza also mentioned last year's 18 and under boy's team as one of the top teams.

"BEST TEAMS have five or six top players, but this team had nine or 10," said Mendoza. "They played in the Southern Illinois League and won nine straight. That, too, was a big thrill."

Although currently involved with the indoor program at Soccer For Fun, Mendoza said that he feels he will be retiring from coaching very soon.

"I think it's getting time to get away from coaching," said Mendoza. "I'd like to start playing more indoor soccer, but my coaching is just about over."

"I guess I'll always be involved though, the game has been so good to me."

UNFAIR TRADE

Do you believe it's unfair to let products into the United States from countries that don't allow American goods equal entrance?

If you do, you think the way 85% of a sample of American voters do, according to a recent survey by a respected Washington polling firm, Fingerhut-Granados Opinion Research. The poll was done in nine industrial states from Texas to Pennsylvania. But the U.S. government doesn't agree. They don't see anything unfair about it.

If the government thought the way most voters do, there wouldn't be a steel import problem. And only Canadian steel could be imported into the United States. Because only Canada trades by the same rules we do.

While we open our markets to them...

- ★ Japan limits steel imports to 5% of its market.
- ★ The European Community sets steel import quotas at 11% of its market. Two-thirds of steel production is government-owned.
- ★ South Korea and Brazil ban any imports of steel products they can make themselves. Government ownership is 100% and 77%, respectively.
- ★ Mexico, Spain and South Africa allow steel imports by government permit only. They're usually not issued if the product can be made there. Government ownership of 100%, 77%, and 89%, respectively.

In the past three years, these same countries committed 27 proven violations of U.S. trade laws. (By selling steel below cost, with the losses made up by their governments or government banks.)

But it took 18 months to prove each violation. By that time, the damage was done.

And, in the end, it was the victims who paid the penalty. American steelworkers, in lost jobs. American steel companies in lost sales. And American taxpayers in higher unemployment payments.

When it takes so long to prove a violation of our trade laws, no wonder illegal foreign steel imports keep increasing.

This year, 25% of the steel used in America is imported steel. That's why today, 100,000 American steelworkers are laid off. And hundreds of thousands of other Americans from steel-related jobs are unemployed.

Stand up for America.

Do you believe, as 76% of the voters sampled do, that it's time to stop losing American jobs to unfair imports?

If you do, you can help. Congress is considering the Fair Trade in Steel Act. It would limit steel imports to 15% of our market across-the-board for five years, and require American steel companies to use the resulting profits to modernize American steel mills.

Write your Congressman and Senators. Urge them to restore and save American jobs by supporting this legislation.

If you're not a letter-writer, sign the coupon below and mail it to the Senator or Congressman named.

But, please, act now. The stakes are high. Let your government know what you believe. And maybe they'll start believing, too.

AND AMERICANS KNOW IT!

Acts 12:5... Peter therefore was kept in prison but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

Herod the king has already killed James the brother of John. Now Peter was imprisoned and death was sure to be his fate.

The time had come for serious prayer. The church dropped all formalities. God's people began to cry out. This was not the time for choosing the right word, not for proper inflection of the voice. Peter would die. The church prayed without ceasing unto God!

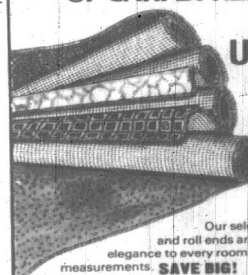

Perhaps you are in a crisis situation. Sick, afflicted, out of work, marriage on the rocks, etc. If so, then it's time to pray. Tell God what you need out of your hearts. If you are sincere that sincerity will move God quicker than any words your lips can form.

God saw to it that Peter was set free. God will answer your prayer too. You don't need experience to pray. Just a heart that only God can supply. Why not pray today?

Corten steel art works on exhibit loan

By KIM REDEKER

Two three-dimensional steel structures located near the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have temporarily disappeared. They may be missed because these art objects have been known to put to practical uses by students.

Barry Tinsley's "Oscillator," a 76"x74"x31" corten steel construction, stood on the patio of the center almost inviting misuse as a bike rack. "Elegy #1," a 43"x70"x60" work by Ed McCullough, a corten steel sculpture, have often sat on the long, extended panel edges as though it were a bench for resting.

BOTH PIECES are now getting the respect they deserve, in the sculpture garden at Cedarhurst in Mt. Vernon, Ill. They are on loan to the Mitchell Museum for an outdoor exhibition called "Recent Sculpture from University Foundations." The show opened July 14; it will close Aug. 30.

According to David Huntley, director of University Museums at SIUE, the university played an important role in organizing this faculty and student oriented exhibit. SIUE at Carbondale and Eastern Illinois University are also participating.

Thomas Gipe, associate professor of art and design and head of the sculpture program at SIUE, submitted two of his works, while Laura Goemaat, an assistant in the department of art and design, offered one of hers.

THE SHOW OFFERS a total of 12 pieces. The Tinsley and McCullough works from SIUE were purchased with funds from the Illinois Arts Council's permanent funds program.

Barry Tinsley, who also created "Southern Moraine," which stands in front of the Vandalia Center at SIUE, is represented by work in a new Illinois state building, in which the works of 16 Chicago artists are included. He has taught at Illinois State University.

McCullough received his master's degree from Illinois State. He was

Enrollment at BAC is looking up

Belleville Area College's (BAC) enrollment is looking up. BAC President Dr. Bruce R. Wissore reported to the Board of Trustees that the college's enrollment drop has been reduced to 6.7 percent.

"We recognized the problem and went at it in a systematic way," Wissore said. "All the community colleges in the state have an enrollment drop of 12 to 18 percent."

"WE'RE AT ABOUT half of that. A lot of schools take the attitude that whatever happens to enrollment is in the hands of God. We haven't taken that attitude."

Board member Patricia Bartok praised the college's attitude.

"I am very proud, especially of our people on the front lines, the ones that are actually talking to potential students and the community," she said. "The enthusiasm and dedication they display is admirable. We don't have volunteers. We have disciples."

DR. WELDON Tallant, vice president for student development, told the board the enrollment figures are encouraging, but tentative. "We had the same number of days left before registration this year as last year," he said. "Our registration is now down 8.2 percent versus 20 percent earlier this summer."

Concerned about the large enrollment drop earlier this summer, BAC officials strengthened their efforts to reach students.

"Last year 640 students were dropped for non-payment of tuition and fees," Tallant said. "This year, we had 887 students who had not paid by the time we would drop them."

WE CONTACTED them by phone to tell them they could pay by VISA or MasterCard and we also sent them a letter reminding them they needed to pay or be dropped and again they could use VISA or MasterCard to pay.

As a result of this effort, we only dropped 36 students this year for failure to pay.

Dennis Sparr, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs, said the special efforts put forth by BAC "We are calling people who are in classes that are not going to make it and asking them if they would like to be put in another section of that class or would they like to register in something else," he said.

BAC FACULTY and students are also calling high school seniors, 801, meeting Tuesday, and The Legal Environment of Business (MG 440 Section 501), meeting Tuesdays, and The Legal Environment of Business (MG 440 Section 501), meeting Thursdays.

visiting fairs, extending telephone registration, sending out post cards and a student development newsletter with information about the college and advertising on radio and in newspapers.

"This is not the effort of one person," Sparr said. "This is a college-wide effort from faculty, students and all departments."

Board member Ken Fish said that students are grateful for the care shown by BAC employees. "I've had transfer students tell me they never realize how much people at BAC care until they transfer and no one there seems to care," he said.

BOARD CHAIRMAN Avery Schermer said BAC's attitude toward students is important. "Whatever business you're in is the people business," he said.

SIUE nursing school receives grant

The School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received the first year funding of a project that will focus on research, theory and computer training for nursing educators in southern Illinois, Missouri, and western Indiana.

The $94,925 grant was awarded to the School of Nursing by the National Institute of Health and Human Services, according to Patricia Kari, dean of the School of Nursing. The project was approved last fall.

DEAN FORNI said the purposes of the project are to provide continuing education opportunities in nursing research and theory development for nursing educators, improve computer-literacy for nursing educators, develop a peer research network and generate research within schools of nursing through a regional nursing research approach.

"Thirty-one nursing programs and 209 nurse educators have expressed strong interest in participating in the continuing education program," Dean Forni said.

"The project will provide a nursing research theory perspective for those nurses who are already doctorally prepared in other fields and will upgrade the knowledge and skills of those prepared at the master's level," she continued.

THE PROJECT will be administered by Mary Ann Birnbaum, associate professor in the SIUE School of Nursing, and an advisory board representing participating schools.

Dean Forni said continuing education courses in research, theory development and computer skills will be offered during the next three summers to nursing faculty in the region. The project is a three-year program. The first year will receive continuing education units for the completion of these courses. IF ACADEMIC credit is desired.

additional coursework will be arranged. Dean Forni said. Research groups, facilitated by project staff, will be developed and will meet regularly throughout the academic year.

"It is through these established research groups that the network will be formed and research generated," Dean Forni said. The network will be interfaced with the project's continuing research.

A major focus on the project will be the sharing of both human and material resources, she concluded.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED Attorney At Law

Often grandparents contact this office and inquire whether they can obtain visitation with their grandchildren in a case where the parents are divorced. Frequently the wife gets custody and the parents of the father for various reasons lose contact with the grandchildren. Effective January 1, 1982, the Illinois legislature passed a law indicating that grandparents may be granted reasonable visitation with their grand children if they petition the Court. The test used by the Court in these situations is whether such visitation is in the "best interests of the child."

Two recent cases have addressed whether or not grandparents may have visitation with their grandchild where the mother's new husband has adopted the child. Such an adoption procedure serves to terminate the parental rights of the natural father. The question addressed in these cases is whether such an adoption also serves to cut off visitation rights of the father's parents. Unfortunately, the two cases reached opposite results, thereby leaving this issue in a state of confusion under Illinois law.

In one of the cases, a couple was divorced, and the wife received custody of the children. The husband's parents sought, and received, visitation rights with the children. Subsequently, the wife remarried, and her new husband petitioned for adoption of the children, which was granted. In the order of adoption, the grandparents, who were the parents of the parent whose rights were terminated, were granted continuing visitation. The children's mother then refused to allow her ex-husband to visit their grandchildren. The case wound up back in Court.

The Appellate Court ruled that the adoption precluded the grandparents from receiving visitation. The Court examined the history of adoption procedures and reaffirmed that an adoption serves to terminate the rights of the natural parent. The Court further concluded that the rights of a grandparent are derived from the relationship between the child and the parent. Thus, where the parental rights are terminated, the basis for grandparental visitation is terminated, and the grandparents in his case cannot receive visitation.

As noted previously, this was a recent decision by one Appellate Court in Illinois. This Court felt that this decision was consistent with the policy considerations behind an adoption. Next week, this article will discuss a recent Illinois decision which reaches an opposite conclusion.

BURGLARS RANSACK A CHURCH OFFICE, STUDY

An inventory was being taken this week to determine what items were missing from Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, where entry was gained by breaking a restroom window early this week.

The pastor's study and adjoining office were ransacked and a hole was knocked in a door which separates the two rooms. Piling cabinets also were forced open by the intruders.

An attempt also was made to enter a former ice cream shop next to Freuch's Bakery, 1735 Pontoon Road. It was reported the same day.

Two people were seen running from the building, located across from the church and currently vacant. A side window was broken, but entry was prevented by interior bars, reports said.

New book on Social Security benefits printed

Many people are concerned about proposals by the administration that would freeze or reduce some Social Security benefits and eliminate others. Thousands of other people, who are eligible, fail to collect the money they are eligible to receive. Billions of dollars have gone unclaimed because a lot of Americans think Social Security benefits are only for those over 62 years of age and so they don't apply. No one collects without applying.

Consumer Education Research Center, a national consumer group, has found that of the 40 million people now collecting benefits, over 10 million are under 62 and their average age is only 39 years of age.

Robert B. Berko, consumer writer and executive director of the group, assigned a task force to research the Social Security system and to write a clear, concise book that would be a road map through the government maze and help consumers of all ages get the benefits that they are entitled to under the latest laws and show them how to find out how much has been deposited into their account at Social Security headquarters.

Although the program was initially implemented to pay retirement benefits, the study found that over the years Congress has added many programs that pay benefits from the cradle to the grave. At the end of its study, the group published a 126-page book.

This book, just published is called "Consumer's Guide to Social Security Benefits" and is available for $5 (including postage and handling) from CER, Post Office Box 336, South Orange, N. J., 07079.

ALLEGED BATTERY TO WOMAN AND DAUGHTER

Donald J. Connor, 47, of 1619 Edison Ave., was charged with two state counts of battery last week and was released after posting a $204 cash bond.

The charges were filed in connection with incidents reported by his wife, Linda, who alleged she was struck on the head with a rifle scope and injured.

A young daughter, also allegedly was hit by Connor with his fists. The girl suffered two bruises on the side of her head and a swollen lip, reports said.

Weber distorts the record, Allen says

Dick Allen of Granite City, the Democratic nominee for state attorney, accused his opponent on Tuesday of being deceitful in the campaign.

"I was hoping this campaign would be an issues campaign with the voters having a chance to look at both candidates and then choose. Mr. (Don) Weber will not have it that way. He misrepresents everything from his own accomplishments and crime statistics to my qualifications," said Allen.

State's Attorney Weber, a Republican, is seeking re-election on Nov. 6.

"Weber recently stated he was six for six on death penalties and that I would not be able to equal that record," Allen said. "Regardless of whether a prosecutor should brag about death sentences, the facts are that Weber has sought the death penalty 156 times and only obtained 100."

"Of those two, the Supreme Court reversed one because of his misconduct in the courtroom. The other case is still on appeal, and many courthouse observers feel that it, too, will be reversed."

Weber forgets that one quality of a good prosecutor is to get convictions that are upheld on appeal.

"It does no good to convict someone in a trial and get headlines, only to have the conviction reversed and the offender turned loose because of inappropriate state attorney conduct. Good lawyers get convictions that stick."

"As to Weber's allegation that I would not prosecute Democrats or Republican officials for corruption, that is nonsense. When there is a case to be prosecuted, I will be there to do it."

"There will be no three-ring circus, no cameras and press conferences, just good prosecuting."

Weber said, when he was indicted for official misconduct, that a big case involving charges of official corruption did not have to be a daily soap opera on the front page of the paper. A state's attorney should put criminals in jail, not in the newspapers.

Weber is trying to hoodwink the public with false statistics.

"He says crime is down in Madison County. However, the sheriff's department figures for 1983, the most recent year available showed, that burglaries increased 17.4 percent and violent crimes 14.1 percent."

present in this jurisdiction.

"In fact, a spokesman for the sheriff's department has said, 'We're experiencing a fairly violent year this year.'"

"Who do you believe—a professional law enforcement officer, or a headline-seeking candidate running for re-election?"

Weber told of his accomplishments and assailed Allen in addressing the Madison County Grand Jury Association this month.

The sheriff report cited by Allen, released Sept. 8, included projections for the remainder of the 1983 calendar year.

Allen said no death penalties were obtained in the prosecutions of James Lippert, Harold Jeffries, John Wagner, John Prante and the Clark-Wright case.

He said the capital punishment verdict against Givies Davis was reversed and the death penalty ordered for Larry Joe Adams has been appealed.

BOYS LOOT THE CABBAGE PATCH OF 25 DOLLS

Two boys, 8 and 13, carrying a plastic garbage bag and a box containing 25 Cabbage Patch dolls, were stopped by officers while walking near Fox Industries warehouse, 1001 Niedringhaus Ave., during the weekend.

Initially, the boys said someone gave them the dolls, but after being escorted back to the warehouse, they admitted entering a Ryder PIE Nationwide truck-trailer with Tennessee registration.

The boys were released to their families, pending a talk with a detective later, reports said.

- That the amount of the City of Venice's proposed levy, exclusive of election costs, estimated as necessary to be raised by taxation for the City's fiscal year 1984-1985, and based on taxes levied against the assessed valuation of the City for the year 1984 is $341,179.00.
- Said proposed levy of $341,179.00 represents an increase of $39,338.94 in the proposed aggregate amount of property taxes to be levied and extended for the fiscal year 1984-1985 against the assessed valuation of the City for the year 1984 as said levy relates to the taxes extended of the preceding year of 1983, said amount being 113.03% of the taxes extended for the year 1983.

Anchorage Sr. Citizens praise police officers

Members of Anchorage Senior Citizens Club expressed their appreciation to the Granite City police department for the swift apprehension of a suspected burglar in the housing project, at a potluck luncheon and business meeting held last week.

Mrs. Augusta Lampe, club president, spoke to the group and said the police officers, responded within minutes to the incident and the residents when they need protection. Fred Hoffman, of the police department, spoke to the club at a meeting prior to the incident and outlined ways the residents could prepare for their protection against unwanted persons near their apartments.

The president opened the session with the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance, and then introduced guests, Bruce Cowan, Mrs. Helen Thiel, Edward Besserman, and Ellen Williams, a twin sister of Mrs. Madelyn Holmes, a member.

Cowan spoke to the group in conjunction with voter registration and reminded each one that if they have changed their address and are now living in another precinct they must send the information to the county clerk before Aug. 27. For more information members are advised to contact the president.

Officers reports were given by Leona Bains, secretary, Edna Ishm, treasurer and Mary Ahlvers, the latter reviewed read by Mrs. Lampe.

All members welcomed Wilma Dees who attended the session for the first time in many months and they also extended appreciation to Alderman Everett Morelan for his donation of coffee to the club.

The birthday flower, donated by Mr. and Mrs. George Willis, was won by Mrs. Georgia Butler. Games were played during the social hour and prizes awarded to Lillian Backs, Geneva Boyd, Rose Zotti, Edna Ishm, Lena Harnesman, Mrs. Butler and Evelyn Morgan.

The Sept. 5 meeting will be a business session, Mrs. Lampe noted.

Zoning classification changed to include historical museums

Granite City alderman Tuesday night approved a change in the wording of the 191 residential zoning classification, to allow historical museums under permitted uses.

The move came after members of the Old Six Mile Historical Society expressed an interest in purchasing the old Zippel estate at 3297 Maryville Road, pending a decision on zoning.

The group requested a rezoning of the property to a C-3 commercial category, since there was no classification for a not-for-profit organization running a museum. But City Planner Ed Crow advised aldermen through a letter to allow the operation under R-1 classification, since the current ordinance allows for museums owned and operated by a public agency. The R-1 classification could then be updated to include historical museums.

The letter also stated that the retention of the current residential zoning would be advantageous in that if the museum should ever close, the property would retain the original zoning and characteristics of the neighborhood.

The Zippel estate was originally willed to the Shriners' organization. The local society will seek to purchase the home and restore it for use as a historical museum of the Quad Cities.

BICYCLE-RIDING THIEF STEALS WOMAN'S PURSE

A youth riding a yellow 10-speed bicycle snatched the purse of Patricia Johnson of the Grenzer Homes, Madison, while she was walking during the weekend near O'Dell's Iron and Metals at Market and State streets, Madison.

Mrs. Johnson told police the youth was small and had a large radio on the bicycle, which was headed east. The purse contained $10 and personal papers, she said.
